Council Studies Bill To Complete Clear Fork Plan

Action Toward Acquisition of Added Land For City's $1,000,000 Project Expected At Tuesday Meeting.

Legislation vital to the completion of Mansfield $1,000,000 Clear Fork reservoir will be considered by city council Tuesday, including bills providing money for land clearing and the purchase of some of the last acreage needed for the project.

In addition, first legislative action is to be taken to procure land for the project's purification plant and pipe-line right-of-way, as well as land for a public road right-of-way.

Also on the docket for final action is expected to be the long-studied measure which will boost to $13.20 the city's refuse collection fee. It is now $7.20.

City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner said yesterday that he has been asked to prepare an ordinance appropriating funds for the clearing of the reservoir site.

Second Major Phase.

With the reservoir dam underway, launching of the clearing work will mark the opening of the project's second major phase.

Still to be started, then, would be construction of the first purification unit and the pipe-line. Wagner said that he is preparing legislation for consideration Tuesday authorizing the procuring of purchase agreements for the land for both these items.

Also being drawn, he said, is a bill authorizing the purchase of 158.5 acres of land from Bertha Nichols for $16,500. Depending upon how much land council determines still is needed, completion of the Nichols' purchase would leave about 200 acres to be bargained for.

About 14 acres is to be purchased for the purification plant and a pumping station while the pipeline right-of-way would extend from the Clear Fork reservoir to the city's present Woodland reservoir, Wagner said.

Would Relocate Pipeline.

The purchase of land for a road right-of-way will involve land owned by Alfred and Olive Tanner. Purchase of this land, as well as acreage owned by R. O. McFarlan, would permit the re-location of State Route 97.

Other Clear Fork legislation provides for the acceptance of a proposal by the Sohio Pipe-line company for the re-location of its six-inch line for $13,000.

A bill designed to set up the leasing of city land for a naval armory will be up for a vote as well as one authorizing the employing of an additional clerk for the service-safety office at $150 a month.

NEW HOUSING UNITS DOUBLE

Mansfield Cuts Down Shortage But At Highest Cost Since 1930.

Mansfield is making good progress in its efforts to beat the housing shortage, a study of city building permits showed Saturday.

At the same time, the Investors Syndicate of Minneapolis, reporting on a nationwide survey of building costs in 310 cities, gave figures to indicate that the cost of new homes in Mansfield was at the highest level in 16 years or longer.

The Syndicate's report on new homes built and their cost covered only the period through 1945. It did not include figures on 1946 building costs, which generally are accepted as considerably higher than in 1945.

"The average cost per person supplied with new housing in Mansfield during 1945 was $1,641.51, a 16-year-peak, and an increase of 30 per cent over the 1944 figure of $1,258.53," the Syndicate reported. "The low of $1,103.57 was in 1939."

Shelter for 424.

The Syndicate reported new homes started in Mansfield in 1945 provided shelter for 424 persons, a gain of 192 over the 1944 total of 232.

City building permits showed that through November of this year, homes for an additional 720 persons either were completed or started but these figures were not included in the Syndicate's report.

The Syndicate placed a total value of $696,000 on homes started here in 1945, an increase of $404,020 over the 1944 aggregate of $291,980.

Mansfield, it added, ranked 114th in new home volume among the 310 cities studied in 1945. In 1944, Mansfield ranked 96th. No ranking was given for 1946.

City building records show that the homes started this year, sufficient to accommodate 720 persons, is nearly double that of 1930's 388.

Old Houses Predominate.

"There were 11,516 dwelling units in Mansfield on January 1, 1946. Of these 1,836 or 15.9 per cent were built since January 1, 1930. This means that 84.1 per cent of the families in this city are living in accommodations more than 16 years old.

"Mansfield," explained the Syndicate, "provided new homes in 1945 for 9 per cent more people than the 388 total in 1930, which the national building industry generally considers a 'normal' year.

Plane Interrupts Boys' Grid Game

KEARNEY, N. J.—(AP)—Virgil B. Day jr., made a forced landing in his light sports plane during a touch football game on Gunnell oval yesterday.

The football players found the trouble—a plugged gas line—fixed it, and helped Day take off. Then they resumed their game.

WORLD DUTIES TO COST U. S. $369,000,000

War Department Wants Huge Sum to Pay Occupation Cost for 6 Months.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—War Secretary Robert P. Patterson said last night it would cost $369,000,000 to meet expenses of American occupation armies for the first six months of 1947 and of that sum $105,000,000 would be needed for the rehabilitation and resettlement of 620,000 displaced persons in Austria and Germany.

Patterson told a national mobilization conference of the united Jewish appeal that since the end of the war 3,000,000 persons were restored to their home from American zones in Europe but the army must care for the remaining 620,000 for some time to come.

"It is one of the main activities of the occupation forces in Europe, and the expens of it is a large item in the war department budget," he said.

Patterson said his department "must ask" congress in January for a "deficiency appropriation of $369,000,000" to meet occupation expenses for the balance of the fiscal year ending June 3.

"That figure includes $1,000,000 for displaced persons in Germany and $14,000,000 for displaced persons in Austria," he said.

It was impossible to stimate what occupation costs would be for 1947-48, Patterson said, because the number of displaced persons in the American zone then could not be forecast.

He said: "The war is over, but many of the miseries of war are still with us. The German people bear responsibility for the miseries, as part of their responsibility for the war itself.

U. S. Pays Bill.

"That guilt, however, does not bring relief to these victims of Nazism. Their final relief must come from U. S. and from the other nations that thwarted the German plan for world rule.

"It must be dealt with as part of the program to bring lasting peace."

The war secretary said he agreed with President Truman's proposal for the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine. Of the displaced persons in Austria and Germany, he said 180,000 were Jews.

Massillon's 'Tom-Cats' Top Ohio Quartets

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The Massillon Tom-cats, with Tommy Henrich, New York Yankee first-baseman, singing first tenor, won the title of Ohio's best barbershop quartet last night in competition with nine other harmonizing foursomes.

A capacity audience of 3,550 filled Memorial hall, and another 500 lovers of old fashioned melody were turned away.

The Tom-cats, dressed in brown suits, with straw hats and plaid ties, sang that harmonizers' standby, "Down By the Old Mill Stream," and "Carolina In the Morning."

The Jolly Fellows of Dayton, sang their way to second place with "Ma, She's Makin' Eyes At Me," and "Where the Morning Glories Grow."

CONSIDER LIFTING 'NO STRIKE' POLICY

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — The American Federation of Teachers (AFL) is considering rescinding its 30-year-old "no-strike" policy because of present "economic conditions," President Joseph P. Landis of Cleveland, said yesterday.

The pledge has been under examination by the executive committee since August, and a recommendation will be made late in December at Chicago, he said.

A national convention directed that the policy be re-examined, and the executive committee's recommendation will come before the next convention next summer, Landis added.

Goossens Brings Cincinnati Orchestra To City Monday

The Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, ranked among the six major orchestras of the United States, will appear at John Simpson auditorium Monday night for the second in this season's series of concerts sponsored by the Mansfield Civic Music association. The concert will begin at 8:15 p. m.

The orchestra's engagement will afford Mansfielders their last opportunity to see the ensemble under the direction of Eugene Goossens. The noted conductor will terminate his 16 years with the Cincinnati Symphony next March to become conductor of the Sydney, Australia, symphony orchestra and director of the New South Wales Conservatory of Music.

Recognized as one of the finest symphonic groups in the world, the Cincinnati orchestra is now playing its 52nd season. It was organized in 1895 in response to the demands of Cincinnati for a permanent orchestra of first rank which would give frequent interpretations of the best in the musical literature of the world.

Its present personnel of 8 virtuoso players was preceded by an orchestra of 40 musicians which presented occasional concets in the city prior to 1895 under the direction of Michael Brand.

Its conductors, in chronological order, have been Frank van der Stucken, Leopold Stokowski, Dr. Ernst Kunwald, Eugene Ysaye and Fritz Reiner, immediate predecessor of Goossens.

U.S. Expeditions Assault World's Chill Polar Areas

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The United States army and navy today prepared for a determined assault upon the polar regions of the world.

Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd's expedition of five ships will sail tomorrow for the Antarctic from Norfolk, Va. Navy destroyers and seaplane tenders will accompany the admiral's flagship, Mt. Olympus.

In the far north, the army's first major post-war test of tactics and weapons for fighting in the arctic goes into full swing today as a hand-picked task force in the Aleutians starts three months of strenuous operations.

Following amphibious war games in warm Southern California, "Force Willillaw" will contend with rain, snow, sleet and hurricane winds which some times reach 110 miles an hour on the island of Adak.

Two other groups of 1,200 or more men each meanwhile will be operating in other types of cold weather—"Task Force Frigid" in the sub-zero cold of the Fairbanks, Alaska, area and "Frost" at Camp McCoy, Wis.

The war department reported last night the Aleutians force in a five-day preliminary field maneuver this month was given a foretaste of worse to come by a sudden 75-mile storm which ripped tents. A medium tank which undertook to cross frozen tundra was mired for nine hours.

Officers Make Study.

With army, navy and marine corps officers as observers, the Adak force will undergo three ten-day maneuvers beginning Dec. 9, Jan. 6 and Feb. 6. Artillery weapons, including self-propelled guns, will be tested along with vehicles, field equipment and rations.

The group is commanded by Col. Joseph D. Raney, a veteran of two years' wartime service in Alaska.

The ground forces' operations at Adak and Fairbanks coincide with army air forces training with Superfortress bombers and P-51 fighter planes over an area which army and navy officials deem the world's most strategic region in the event of another war.

The 28th Bomb group was ordered last month to Elmendorf field, Anchorage, Alaska, and a squadron of P-51's from the 56th Fighter group is due at Fairbanks in December. Each will train about six months.

O'NEIL'S STORE TO OPEN FRIDAY

O'Neil's, Mansfield's new department store at Third and Main streets, will open at 10 a. m. Friday, Jack Miller, store manager, announced yesterday.

Remodeling of the building began in June, and workmen went on "round-the-clock" schedules several weeks ago to assure completion in time for the Christmas shopping season.

The new store will feature 75 departments, selling a wide variety of goods from jewelry to furniture. Three separate floors will be utilized—a basement, main floor and second floor.

The furniture department is located in a portion of the second floor of Neisner's, located immediately north of the Mohican building.

In the basement floor will be such departments as glassware, cotton goods, cutlery, sporting goods, hardware, household goods and other items.

The main floor will comprise shoe departments, men's clothing, jewelry, women's clothing and other so-called "soft goods" in cottons and silks.

The second floor will contain the huge furniture department, additional men and women's clothing and dressing booths.

Miller said approximately 150 sales clerks will be employed, most of them women.

CPA SAYS YOU CAN LIGHT HOLIDAY TREES

WASHINGTON —(AP)— It's all right to light up the kids' indoor Christmas trees, Santa Claus, but leave the others dark.

John D. Small, civilian production administrator, gave the word last night. He ruled the 21-state dimout banning ornamental lighting because of the coal strike was not meant to cover indoor Christmas trees in homes.

But it does apply to indoor trees in stores and other business buildings, and all outdoor Christmas trees.

Senator Offers Advice to Labor

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Henry C. Dworshak of Idaho, one of the 17 first term Republicans in the new senate, yesterday offered "some friendly advice" to William Green, Philip Murray and all other union leaders:

"They must start now trying to be on friendly terms with both political parties if they want to keep organized labor out of the political doghouse."

HITLER CALLED HIROHITO 'WEAK'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A bristling Nazi document published last night by the American War Crimes prosecution staff disclosed Adolf Hitler once ranked Stalin with Mussolini and himself as the "only three great statesmen in the world."

Hitler deemed Emperor Hirohito of Japan to be "weak, cowardly, irresolute."

That was the estimate of the Fuehrer in 1939, two years before he turned on Soviet Russia, as given in a bloodthirsty talk to Nazi generals at a secret conference at his mountain retreat at Obersalzberg.

The War Crimes staff, in publishing the transcript along with other Nazi documents, said it was referred to at Nuernberg but not made a part of the trial record.

At the conference, on the eve of the Nazi agreement with Russia and less than 10 days before the attack on Poland, Hitler announced his intention to "go with Stalin" for the time being and "undertake with him a new distribution of the world."

"Stalin and I are the only ones that see only the future," he said.

Exhorting his military leaders to a pitiless attack on Poland, Hitler told them the Nazi's strength lay in "our quickness and our brutality," and continued:

"Ghengis Khan had millions of women and children killed by his own will and with a gay heart. History sees only in him a great state builder. What weak western European civilization thinks about me does not matter.

"We must take into account the defection of Japan. I have left to Japan a whole year's time to decide. The emperor is the companion piece of the late czars. Weak, cowardly, irresolute, he may fall before a revolution.

"The occasion is favorable now as it has never been. I have only one fear and that is that Chamberlain or such another dirty swine comes to me with propositions or a change of mind. He will be thrown downstairs."

Travels 5,900 Miles In His Wheel Chair

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Wesley Engquist, 26-year-old infantile paralysis victim, relaxed in the Florida sunshine yesterday after completing a 5,900-mile sight-seeing tour in a wheel chair via Oregon and California to Miami.

Engquist, who set out from his home town of Fremont, Neb., on Aug. 15, said during his cross country trek he was given 62 rides by friendly truck drivers who pushed his balloon-tire wheel chair into the back of their vehicles.

Cousins Fail In Attempt To Bail Out Craft

Firemen Drag Scioto River For Bodies of Robert Guthrie, Senior High Pupil, and Delaware Youth.

Robert Guthrie, 17, a senior at Mansfield Senior high school, and his 11-year-old cousin, Charles Ufferman of Delaware, were drowned late Saturday when they tried to cross the Scioto river north of Columbus in a rowboat they found abandoned along the shore.

Columbus firemen and deputies from the Franklin county sheriff's office were still dragging the river for the bodies late last night.

The Guthrie youth, who lives with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Williams, 506 Woodville road, had gone to Delaware Thanksgiving day to visit his cousin.

Sheriff's officers at Columbus said the boys had been hunting along the shore of the river about a mile and a half north of O'Shaughnessy dam when they apparently found the boat in a cove and decided to see how it worked.

The craft started filling with water as the boys neared the center of the stream and sank despite their frantic efforts to bail it out, officers were told. The tragedy occurred about 4 p. m.

The river is from 15 to 18 feet deep where the bodies disappeared, officers said.

Older Boy Could Swim.

The Guthrie boy's uncle said last night the youth was a good swimmer. However, the cold water and handicap of hunting clothes probably pulled him down before help could be summoned, Williams said.

When the call first came in, Columbus firemen went to a spot below the dam, believing that the boys had drowned there, officers reported.

Young Guthrie had lived with his uncle and aunt here since he was a small boy. His father, Edward Guthrie, is a sergeant in the army and is on active duty, Williams said. The boy's mother lives at Powell, O., near the scene of the tragedy.

The Williams were notified of the drownings last night by the Ufferman boy's father.

LEWIS COUNSEL PLANS APPEAL IF NECESSARY

Prepares to Take Case to U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government acted yesterday to chalk up retroactive fines against the individual miners for each day of the soft coal strike while prospects for an out-of-court settlement waned.

The fines, $1 to $7 for each day of idleness, will not be collected, however, until the miners go back to work and they can be deducted from paychecks. And the proceeds will go to the union's own medical fund, administered solely by it.

Undeterred by this move, counsel for John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers mapped fresh strategy for their legal battle against the government which resumes Monday. They plan an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals if the Federal District court ruling goes against them, it was learned, and they hope that any contempt of court sentence may be stayed until it is decided.

The private operators of the Southern Coal Producers Association, called to meet here Monday, may remove Edward R. Burke as president, said one industry official, for his announcement Thursday that "we are willing to talk" with Lewis on "wages, hours and everything else." Ten directors have repudiated Burke's statement.

Support for Burke came from Hubert E. Howard, Chicago, member of the coal operators' negotiating committee. Howard, in St. Louis, told a reporter that "Burke's move is seconded

U. N. NEAR DECISION ON PERMANENT SITE

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. —(AP)— The United Nations last night approached the decision stage in its long hunt for a permanent home as an inspection subcommittee wound up a coast-to-coast tour by viewing the old world's fair site in Flushing Meadows.

Within a few hours the experts went to work on their report, which is due Monday. The parent 54-nation headquarter committee then will immediately begin debate leading to a final decision.

Areas under consideration are New York, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Boston.

TUCUMAN, Argentina—(AP)—Ten persons were killed and more than 100 injured yesterday when a crowd waiting for the wife of President Juan D. Peron surged through police lines and knocked down a reviewing stand. She was invited here to distribute food and clothing.

Merchants Look For Savings Checks To Boom Yule Buying

Mansfield's Christmas shopping rush tapered off to little more than the average Saturday crowd yesterday after merchants reported the biggest business of the season Friday.

Adult gifts, such as wearing apparel and jewelry, were put in the "slow" class by department heads who said that sales had been good in general, but not up to last year's mark.

Several clerks remarked that they had received many "just looking" replies to their "May I help you?" questions.

Merchants said they believed Christmas savings checks, due in the mail sometime this week, "will undoubtedly" step up buying.

The practical trend in shopping has crept into the children's departments, where snow suits, dresses and coats took precedence with the buyers over dolls, tricycles and other toys.

Men's wear counters were jammed with white-shirt seekers while one of the best stocks in history of ties, shorts, belts, toilet articles, leather goods—and yes, even pajamas—lined the shelves. White shirts, needless to say, are still among the scarcest items in the masculine gift line.

Serious, Heavy Topics Take Up Russian Newspaper Space

(Last of five articles)

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW —(AP)— There must be no press in the world which is so avidly read as the Soviet press.

Only a lack of newsprint keeps it from being the biggest press in any land and with more newsprint coming all the time, it may well become the world's largest in a matter of years.

Soviet newspapers have no large advertisements, no comics and no sport sections, as such. They carry no sex or sensations. Railway wrecks, airplane crashes, fire and automobile smashups are not news in Russia.

Some advertisements are published here, however. A four-page daily called Evening Moscow devotes almost half its back page to ads. They cover such subjects as help wanted, announcements of new movies and the program for the Hippodrome race track.

Most Russian newspapers are four pages and have no advertisements, although the big regular dailies do carry small schedules on theaters and movies.

The biggest papers are:

Pravda, organ of the Central committee of the Communist party.

Izvestia, organ of the Soviets, of the deputies, of the laborers, of the government.

Trud, which means labor.

There also is Red Star for the army and Red Fleet for the navy.

There are two ways to receive papers, through subscriptions and by buying at Kiosks in the cities. Subscribers get their papers delivered to their homes or offices by the postman.

Papers Vary.

There is a newspaper, of course, for all phases of life. There is the Peasant's Gazette, the paper which covers the arts. There are papers which devote columns to science and medicine and a sport paper for Soviet sports. In many cities and towns of Russia, are local Pravdas.

Newspapers here pass through many hands and it is no exaggeration to say that every word is read by millions of persons daily. Newspapers also are pasted up on walls and behind glass cases all over the cities, and crowds swarm around them.

Newspapers here are not interested in making money so the more people they can reach, the happier they are, no matter if it is free.

The Russians do not have newsboys on the streets yelling out headlines and if they did the headline wouldn't be startling enough to halt a passerby as in the United States. The headline probably would be about a new blast furnace or about some comrade who overfulfilled his plan in a factory. It would not be sensational.

The papers are featured by lengthy, erudite editorials and exhaustive articles on weighty subjects. Presently a great amount of space is devoted to covrage of the United Nations. Editorials concern themselves with the collective harvest, revitalizing cooperatives and getting out labor reserves.

There are magazines galore on the heavy side, featuring discussions on economics, technical and party subjects.

Most foreign news appears on the back pages of newspapers. Some times political cartoons are carried.

Russia has one strictly humorous magazine, Krokodil. It comes out weekly and contains caricatures, cartoons, jokes and humorous strips.

About Harry Mehock, '47 Relays, Scrappy Tygers, Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

HARRY MEHOCK, genial director of athletics in Mansfield schools, is like a kid with a shiny new fifty cent piece today after announcement of the resumption of the famous Mansfield relays next spring . . . For Mehock is the "father" of the scholastic relays which started on a shoestring a score of years ago and became the country's No. 1 high school track event with the exception of the schoolboy division of the Penn relays . . . Mehock got the idea of a far-reaching high school track event while starring on the Illinois squad in the early 20's . . . The Mansfield coach was a crack 440 man and participated in the Drake, Illinois, Texas, Kansas and Southwestern relays . . . Harry won two letters at Illinois and ran on the medley relay team which set a Drake relay record in 1926 . . . At the time of the inception of the Mansfield relays only two others—Ohio State and Defiance—were on the schoolboy docket but Mehock's embryo meet soon became the top one in Buckeye circles and the others dropped into limbo . . . The Tygers copped five championships in the 15 years but Harry best remembers the 1933 title . . . That was the year Mansfield defeated Jesse Owens and the Cleveland East Tech squad . . . East Tech went on to win the National schoolboy championship.

SCRAPPINESS will be the keynote when Coach Vern Hoffman's Mansfield Tyger basketeers take to the hardwood this year . . . Lacking the height that made them one of the district's feared teams last season, the Bengals are long on ball hawkishness and determination . . . A pair of long and rugged scrimmage sessions last week brought to light a lot of speed but the performers were a trifle ragged on the ball handling side of the ledger . . . The ex-football players particularly were plagued with a slight case of fumbleities but that was only natural in their first week of serious drills . . . Tuesday's battle with the alumni will help to iron out a few of the kinks and the men of Hoffman should be considerably smoother when the opener with Wapakoneta rolls around Friday . . . Only two of the players on the first squad—Chuck Sisco and Jerry Robfogel—go above the six-foot mark . . . However, veterans Ollie Cline and Ralph Majors can get into the air with the best of them and nab the leather off the bankboards . . . Cline is starting his third year as a regular . . . Shelley Swank, who was some shakes as a baseballer last spring, has been looking good on set shots . . . He plunked in four in a row against Galion.

CUFF STUFF: The Cleveland Browns have announced the procedure for ordering tickets to the All-America conference championship football game at Cleveland stadium Sunday, Dec. 22, between the Browns and New York Yankees. . . . Orders accompanied by checks or money orders plus a self-addressed return envelope should be sent to the Cleveland Browns football club, 405 Leader building, Cleveland 14, Ohio. . . . Scale of prices, tax inclusive, is $6.00, 4.80, 3.60 and 2.40.

Mike Horvath, ex-Tyger gridder, received a gold football from Coach John Swigart for three years of varsity tackle play at Wooster college. . . . He played his last game of collegiate ball last Saturday when the Scots dropped a 23-0 decision to Oberlin. . . . Horace Gillom, former Massillon end, was named to one of the flanker posts on the INS All-Pacific Coast grid team. . . . Gillom performs for Nevada.

Bellville is one of the four teams entered in the newly formed Mohican football league. . . . Other clubs are Danville, Fredericktown and Millersburg. . . . D. D. Rummel, Bellville, is president. . . . Two more teams might be added before next fall. . . . Mt. Gilead is a possibility for a berth.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, Mr. Football to millions, is another grid mentor who might feel the axe this year. . . . The 84-year-old dean of American coaches has been asked to step down as head man of College of Pacific grid fortunes. . . . Stagg has missed only one game and two practice sessions in 14 years at COP. . . . However, the final retirement decision is entirely up to Stagg, college officials stated.

Mansfield Relays Coming Back

'47 EVENT SCHEDULED FOR APRIL

Mansfield will regain its place at the top of the Buckeye state track picture next April 19 when the war enforced interruption of the Mansfield relays comes to an end.

Harry Mehock, Tyger track coach and director of athletics in Mansfield schools, announced yesterday that the most important of all Ohio high school spring athletic events, with the exception of state meets, will be run off at Stadium field. The war and subsequent gasoline rationing caused officials to postpone the 16th annual meet in 1942.

In 1927, the relays started as the North Central Ohio league meet with Mansfield, Ashland and Galion entered. Name was changed to the North Central Ohio invitational meet in 1928 and nine schools competed.

And then in 1929 the meet officially became the Mansfield relays with 27 schools in the field. The event reached its peak in 1939 when 110 schools from six states participated. The '39 meet had an entry list of 1,500 scholastic track and field artists.

Nineteen events will be on the calendar for the 1947 meet with the first three individuals and the top trio of relay teams all coming in for medals. The Mansfield relays annually gives the best awards of any Ohio high school track meet.

The relays will be augmented by a special four-mile relay event which will be run off Friday afternoon, April 18. Finals of all other events will be run off Saturday afternoon with preliminaries held for the morning.

Invitations to Ohio high schools will be sent out by Tyger officials early in January.

LITTLE COY BIG NOISE IN IRISH WIN OVER USC

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP) A tiny Texan, 160-pound Coy McGee, fired Notre Dame to a relentless 26 to 6 closing triumph over stubborn Southern California to give absent Irish Coach Frank Leahy his first undefeated season since 1941 before a capacity crowd of 56,000 at Notre Dame stadium yesterday.

As slashing and explosive as the "coachless" Irish were in piling up their eighth victory against a scoreless tie with Army for the season, they couldn't stop the inspired Trojans from scoring the first touchdown against Notre Dame's first stringers and making it a 13 to 6 ball game until the final period.

McGee, whose first name Leahy couldn't recall for sports writers in early practices, streaked 77 yards for the first Irish score in the second quarter, seconds after he galloped 50 yards on another break-away. The Longview, Tex., fireball launched a 13-point Irish attack in the final period with an eight-yard payoff jaunt around end.

With Leahy at home bed-ridden with a cold and "nervous exhaustion," the Irish ploughed to 26 first downs against Southern California's nine and an amazing 517 yards by rushing against 108.

Yet, it took McGee's phantom-like flitting to spark them to their brace of six-pointers in the second and fourth period.

The second Notre Dame touchdown was fashioned of a 22-yard pass from reserve quarter George Ratterman to substitute end Leon Hart, while the final score in the last quarter came on second string halfback Gerry Cowhig's 13-yard spring.

Southern California, held beyond the 50 in the first half, exploded for a 45-yard touchdown drive late in the third period when Johnny Naumu squirmed over from the one-foot stripe.

It took a Notre Dame pass interference on a goal-line toss from George Murphy intended for Naumu to set up the touchdown. Naumu missed what then seemed an important placement try for point. That shaved Notre Dame's lead to 13-6, but the Irish then loosed their full offensive fury.

Starting on their 12 after Southern California's touchdown, following kickoff, the Irish thunder-bolted to the Trojan 8 in just seven plays and then stocky McGee darted clear around end for his second touchdown. On that parade, quarterback Johnny Lujack ambled 21 and a pass from Ratterman to Floyd Simmons covered 49 yards to Southern California's 12.

Georgia Rips Tech, 35-7; Vols Triumph

ATHENS, Ga. —(AP)— Charlie Trippi defeated Georgia Tech here yesterday 35-7, with some occasional help from his Georgia teammates to earn the Bulldogs a nod of approval for the Sugar Bowl classic.

Trippi thrilled the capacity crowd of 55,000 with three touchdowns, one on a 66-yard dash after Tech's lone score, and with a touchdown heave to Johnny Rauch. The victory gave the Bulldogs their first perfect season since 1896 when the famed Pop Warner steered them through four games.

Between them, Trippi and Rauch completed 15 of 21 passes, two of Rauch's being for touchdowns, while Tech completed nine of 19. Georgia made 263 yards rushing and 168 passing, while Tech netted 169 on the ground and 115 on passes.

Sniff Orange Blossoms

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Tennessee's Vols, sniffing more at Miami's orange blossoms than tending to the business at hand, muddled through to a 7 to 6 victory over Vanderbilt yesterday in the fortieth grid clash between the state's two major institutions.

The Vols were tapped last week to meet Rice in the New Year's day Orange Bowl classic and for a while it looked yesterday they'd go south to the land of sunshine with two defeats instead of one for the regular season which ended for them yesterday. As things concluded, Coach Bob Neyland's boys lost only to Wake Forest in their ten game 1946 campaign.

A one-pointer kicked after a touchdown in the early minutes of play meant victory for the Tennessee squad, which threatened in every quarter but was unable to generate scoring steam after the first successful foray.

Madison Five Opens Season Tuesday Night

Mansfield Madison opens its 15-game basketball schedule Tuesday night at Mt. Vernon.

Coach Jeff DeHaven's cage hopeful's have worked out two weeks since the conclusion of the football season and are rapidly rounding into shape for the 1946-47 basketball campaign. Thirty-eight athletes have been vieing for positions on the squad.

Two lettermen are returning off the 1945-46 squad which won 12 of 17 regular season games and DeHaven is looking forward to a successful season. Dick Ernsberger and Herb Eldridge are the court veterans. Both are juniors.

DeHaven has a young squad with only two seniors trying for starting berths. The last year candidates are Wayne Strang and Dick Glenn.

The Madison lads will make their first appearance before a home crowd next Friday when Shelby invades the Ram gym. Shelby opened last week by dropping a 29 to 26 decision to Fostoria.

Three lettermen—Dick Seitz, Dave Connelly and Bill Lucas—form the nucleous of the Whippett squad. Seitz and Connelly are both six-footers. Shelby copped 10 of 17 games last season.

ORLANDO, Fla. —(AP)— Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., after faltering badly at the start, steadied down on the incoming nine and retained his one-strike lead in the $10,000 Open Golf tourney here yesterday.

He carded an even par 71 over the Dubsdread Country Club course to put his 54-hole total at 204.

TARS SURPRISE ARMY IN UPSET OF YEAR

By SID FEDER

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Army's careening Cadets wound up their three-year run unbeaten yesterday, but only by the squeaky margin of three extra points, as the Navy picked itself off the floor from its worst season in history to battle the mightiest gridiron machine of a generation to a standstill.

The score was 21 to 18, and the only reason the impossible didn't happen was because the "monster and his play-mate"—Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis—set off all their sizzling fireworks in the first half, and the Middie kicking toes couldn't hit the bullseye.

From the start of the second half it was Navy's ball game, as the up-to-now meek Middies, mauled and manhandled in seven straight starts up to today, gave the Cadets the fight of their lives before they were able to come home with that bare three point edge.

It was a slashing, smashing battle these fiercely fighting future admirals put up—a fight that saw them dug in on Army's five yard line and still rolling when the clock ran out of time to put an end to what appeared the makings of one of the most amazing upsets this game of moleskin mayhem has ever seen.

It left the 102,000 customers who had this huge South Philadelphia concrete horseshoe bulging at the seams—among them President Truman—hanging on the ropes and gasping as the Middies stopped B. and D. to a slow walk in the final two periods and sailed down-field for two touchdowns on their own.

And then it had the Navy footballers, flailed and flattened through a first half that saw Davis score once and Blanchard twice to give the Army a 21-6 edge at the intermission, rolling up their sleeves and coming back with a thrill-a-second job of work that just missed winning.

President Truman, the former artilleryman who is strictly neutral in this brawl every year, sat in his 50-yard line box on the Navy side of the field through the first half and saw the Black Knights of the Hudson pull the customers out of their seats as Davis dashed 13 yards for the first score, Blanchard bulled his way 52 yards for a second and then Davis hit Blanchard with a 27-yard pass in the end zone for a third.

Jack Ray, the Texan with the thread-a-needle toe, booted the point after each one of these tallies, and that did the trick.

That was enough to put this third unbeaten season of the Black Knights on ice, a string that saw the Army banners flying ever since they lost the 1943 Navy game, 13-0. In that startling stretch, they piled up 27 victories in 28 trips to the post, with only their scoreless standoff with Notre Dame three weeks ago marring the run.

But it never came closer to being broken than it was on this crisp, sunshiny afternoon, and the faithful—some of whom had paid ticket speculators as high as $50 a-piece for the privilege of sitting in on it—will never forget it. Before it started, there had been nothing to recommend this as a red-hot brawl, what with a Navy team that hadn't won a game since it nosed out Villanova in its season opener and a 32-point underdog among the betting boys yesterday.

There has been no collegiate struggle with more upsets per square yard than this one in the 56 years it has been on the books. And yesterday, the Middies almost made the biggest one of all happen.

They drove 82 yards between Army's first and second touchdowns for one of their own, that put them behind only 7-6, with the second quarter started. Then they clawed and dug and inched their way 78 yards more in the third period, and finally, capitalizing on a queer quarterbacking stunt by the usually errorless Arnold Tucker late in the third period, they clicked for 35 yards in a hurry for their last marker early in the fourth.

And in Reaves (Base) Baysinger, tall, slim Syracuse, N. Y., quarterback who never did any signal-calling before the Notre Dame clash three weeks ago, and Bill Hawkins of Richmond, Va., fresh off the hospital list, they had the scoring punch. Base scored the first marker on a one-yard sneak through the line, and Hawkins hit the jackpot for the second one from two yards out.

Artie Levine Cast In Favorite Role

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Artie Levine, Brooklyn's battling ex-marine who came within a second of flattening Peerless Sugar Ray Robinson, was the 7 to 5 favorite yesterday to top Jimmy Sheppard of Providence, R. I., in the 10-round main event of the annual Christmas fund boxing show at the Arena Tuesday night.

Despite his underdog role, the Rhode Island Irishman was confident, however, that he could repeat his recent upset victory over Levine at Providence where he entered the ring a 7 to 1 long shot against the hard-hitting Brooklynite.

CLINIC WILL OPEN CAGE CAMPAIGN

Fourth annual basketball clinic Tuesday night in the Tyger lair will touch off the 1946-47 hardwood season for Mansfield Senior high school.

Co-featured in the cage festival will be a demonstration by Coach Paul Horneman and his Heidelberg Student Princes and a regulation cage contest between the present Mansfield varsity and an alumni squad.

The program, sponsored by the Tyger club, is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 and Joe Blahnik, chairman of the booster organization's cage committee, will emcee the program. Proceeds of the clinic will go to the Tyger pep band which provides the musical interludes at all Mansfield home games.

Horneman and his cagers have prepared a 30-minute program which will include zone defense and the fast break and approved methods of penetrating a zone. Horneman coached at New Philadelphia before stepping up to the Student Prince job.

Coaches Vern Hoffman and Fred Staub will introduce the varsity and reserve squads, Harry Mehock will explain the city school basketball program and Jimmy Lymper will discuss the new rules. The Tyger pep band will furnish the music. Senior high principal Glenn G. Rohleder will also speak.

Area schools, not playing Tuesday night, have been given 20 complimentary tickets apiece.

Ed Chatlain, former Tyger court ace and present coach at Savannah high school, is in charge of the alumni courtmen. Jim "Stretch" Regula of the 1945-46 squad will be among the galaxy of stars that will oppose the 1946-47 regulars.

Others on Chatlain's squad are: Dave Shelley, Tom Scott, Fred Lewis, Russ Hoff, Bruce McGinty, Jim LeMunyon, Jack Lyons, Don Rose, Gene Rudolph, Gene Herpick, Jim Hahn and Don Hardy.

Hoffman plans to experiment with his squad to find the best combination to throw against the Wapakoneta Redmen in the season's opener next Friday night. Returning lettermen Ollie Cline, Ralph Majors, Chuck Sisco and Jerry Robfogel are in the midst of a hot fight for starting berths.

Pushing the veterans are Shelley Swank, Nick Gagich, Tom Bloor and Phil Pittenger. Gagich, Cline and Majors are all footballers and joined the squad late.

Mansfield copped 14 of 20 games last season, including a 44 to 29 victory over the Wapak cagers.

Toledo Jeeps Eye Contest With Fort Wayne Zollners

TOLEDO — Riding high, wide and handsome with their four victories in five National Basketball league starts, the Toledo Jeeps are eyeing their coming Dec. 2 date with Fort Wayne's world champions as the most important point of their early schedule.

The Zollners will invade University of Toledo Field House for the Monday night attraction which is expected to attract Toledo's largest professional basketball crowd.

Bramham Says He Will Retire

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Judge W. G. Bramham, a pillar of organized baseball for nearly 50 years, announced yesterday he expected to retire as president of the National association of professional baseball leagues.

The 72-year-old head of the Minor leagues said in an interview:

"They are talking of my retirement based on the condition of my health. I suppose that is what it will result in. Definitely I expect to retire."

This clear cut statement ending long speculation came on the eve of the opening of the association's annual convention here next week. The meeting may turn into a sharp struggle between the Major and Minor leagues over control of baseball's vast structure.

Already there is talk of Major league support for George M. Trautman, executive vice president of the Detroit Tigers, as successor to Judge Bramham's $25,000-per-year job.

FIREPROOFED RESIDENCE HIGH ON 'MUST' LIST

Lath and Plaster Inside Walls In Favor.

Despite the acute housing shortage and the confusion that exists with the removal of most government controls, builders have discovered in recent months that purchasers of new homes are beginning to shop around for values instead of buying just any house offered. The house with the most "extras" is the one that sells quickest.

A recent nation-wide survey by the building industry covering 4000 prospective home-owners showed that among the "extras" most in demand are:

42 percent insist on brick for outside construction.

68 per cent prefer lath and plaster for inside wall construction.

47 per cent want a combination of paint and wallpaper for inside wall decoration.

32 per cent, insist on asbestos shingles.

72 per cent want the house fireproofed.

Twenty-seven per cent want the house soundproofed.

Complete, full-thick mineral wool insulation is high in the list of the wanted "extras". The survey showed that 87 per cent of home-buyers want this insulation in their new homes.

Sales Contrasted.

Bearing this out is the experience met with in a large development on Long Island where sales are moving very slowly because the houses have little or no insulation. A similar development a few blocks away, with all the homes adequately insulated, was sold out in a matter of weeks.

The survey indicates that the public is not looking for "frills" and "gadgets" but is willing to wait for glass-enclosed kitchens and hanging gardens, if it can find a well-constructed, fundamentally sound home that is comfortable, and reasonably free from the dangers of fire, the annoyance of disturbing noise and the discomfort of uneven temperatures in summer and winter.

Home-buyers are shopping for livability, efficiency and comfort. The figures for insulation, soundproofing, fireproofing and construction show that.

It Carries Priorities.

Another good and practical reason for the widespread demand for thorough insulation is that 52 percent of the priorities issued for 600,000 new homes under the current federal housing program call for installation of gas heat, while the remaining 48 per cent is almost equally divided between coal and oil.

The gas industry insists that homes must be adequately insulated before such installation can be made. The gas companies know this will save as much as 25 per cent on the fuel bill and they do not want dissatisfied customers complaining that fuel costs are excessive.

This trend toward more careful buying on the part of the home-buying public will be more and more evident in the very near future. It is in line with consumer trends in every field. The days of free spending are passing. Money is getting tighter and as production curves rise in other industries, this same money will have to be spread further and last longer.

EDWARD R. BURKE, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, announces in Washington that coal operators would be "very happy" to negotiate with John L. Lewis. Burke suggests discussions on everything in connection with a contract, with Lewis summoning miners back to the pits during talks. But fellow operators quickly announced that Burke had spoken without their authorization, and indicated they do not favor a truce while Lewis is on trial. (International.)

BLAZEROUTS 75 PERSONS FROM CHURCH

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Fire yesterday routed 750 persons—350 of them children—attending morning services at the Temple on the Heights, Jewish synagogue at Mayfield and Lee roads in Cleveland Heights.

No one was injured, but a moment after the last child had been guided from Spira hall, a section adjoining the synagogue, flames flashed through the structure during the walls.

"It was a miracle that there were not a great many lives lost," said Fire Chief Herbert Gimmel of Cleveland Heights. "Only the quick action of the teaching staff and the obedience of the children themselves saved them."

Gimmel estimated damage at $10,000, but temple officials placed the estimate at approximately $20,000.

About 400 adults attending services in the large brick synagogue were not aware of the fire until Rabbi George Emde announced services would be suspended because of it and asked the congregation to leave quickly without crowding.

The blaze started backstage in Spira hall and spread to stage drapes and then the roof. Children gathered in the hall were told by teachers to leave the building without their coats when smoke first was noticed.

Firemen said one child reported seeing a flash before the smoke, and that wiring may have been responsible.

TEACHERS, COUNCIL FAIL TO END STRIKE

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—Negotiations between striking public school teachers and city council were stalemated yesterday on the question of money.

A teachers' spokesman said council refused to pledge funds needed for higher salaries and additional school supplies, salient points in the pedagogues' demands. The council replied that it could not under the law.

Council explained that voting of such funds before they became available through official channels would be cause for impeachment. The teachers, who walked out Nov. 25, said they would resume picketing the 77 schools next Monday.

Among the 'Teenagers—

Tie With Red Ribbon Tops Yule-Wanted List of Youth

By MARGUERITE MILLER

PLATTER PATTER of today's top tunes—tie with red ribbon—and you have the answer to what to get the favorite boy or girl friend for Christmas.

Here are some suggestions and a Yule platter roundup:

"The Voice of Frank Sinatra" with orchestral work by Axel Stordahl; The Goodman Sextette in Session; Frankie Carle album of keyboard jazz; Eddy Duchin's "Cole Porter Album" or "Blues by Basie."

There are more than 20 both jive and sweet tunes to be had among the separate records, so take a look at them:

FIRST STOP ON THE LIST seems to be "Choo Choo Ch'Boogie" by the Louis Jordon orchestra with others, like "Rumors Are Flying" by Carle, "Ole Buttermilk Sky" with the Kyser assembly, and "The Old Lamplighter" rounding out the melody. Vaughn Monroe's "The Things We Did Last Summer", Andy Russell's crooning of "Pretending" and Johnny Long's "Blue Skies" seem to be holding their own in popularity.

Other disc hits are "Five Minutes More" featuring Tex Beneke's voice with the Glenn Miller orchestra; "To Each His Own" by Eddy Howard; "South America, Take It Away" is done as only Bing Crosby and the Andrews Sisters can do it; "The Whole World Is Singing My Song" by the Les Brown orchestra; "It's a Pity To Say Goodnight" by Stan Kenton; "The Coffee Song" by Frank Sinatra; "Rickety Rickshaw Man" with the Howard orchestra again; "Sooner or Later" by Sammy Kaye; "And Then It's Heaven" by Harry James and Johnny Mercer's backing to the Pied Pipers in "A Gal in Calico."

BING CROSBY, THAT OLD Christmas favorite, is back on a reissue of his "Merry Christmas" album and another jackpot album of records includes Louis Jordon, the King Cole Trio, Perry Como's selections of "That Christmas Feeling," "I'll Be Home For Christmas," etc.; Artie Shaw's Cole Porter tunes; Johnny Mercer and the Pied Pipers and Freddie Slack's "Boogie Woogie."

ODDS AND ENDS IN THE teen typewriter this week: Some 100 couples turning out for the Hyfun club's holiday dance at the YMCA Friday night. Bill Leicy's orchestra furnished the tunes . . . Former MHSers, Larry Sanborn and George Percy jr. dropping in on the Monday night dance at the YM while on furlough from the army . . . Six more weeks of Wednesday night dance instruction at the Liberty park pavilion. Officers of the "Hep Cats" Teen club say the sessions reached their peak this week with 96 attending.

PRUDENT HABIT

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — The Georgia State Library has its budgeting figured down to a fine point. State Auditor B. E. Thrasher, jr., says its expenditures were $18,992 in 1944, $18,955 in 1945 and $18,989 in 1946.

WHEAT FUTURES DROP SHARPLY

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wheat futures plunged for the sharpest daily loss since prior to the war on the Chicago board of trade yesterday. Corn and oats were weak, but showed greater resistance to heavy selling than wheat.

At one time the January wheat contract was off 8 1-4 cents from the previous close, selling at $2.01 a bushel. At that point it was off 17 cents from the 26 year high scored late last week.

Most of the heavy selling developed in the first hour of trading. Corn and oats were down 4 cents at that time. New buying was attracted and grains staged a modest rally, reducing extreme losses.

Wheat closed 3¾ to 5¼ cents a bushel lower, January $2.04, corn was off 2 to 2½ cents, January $1.28¾-$1.29, and oats declined 2 to 2⅞ cents, December 781-4-78⅛.

Wheat dropped 4 1-4 to 5½ cents at Minneapolis and 4 to 6 cents at Kansas City. At Winnipeg rye fell 5¾ to 10 cents, the daily limit.

FRENCH REDS SEEKING AID OF SOCIALISTS

Party's Slow to Swing Its Support to Thorez.

PARIS—(AP)—French Socialists refused yesterday to make any definite decision on throwing their support to Communist Maurice Thorez for premier, and the "undeclared war" in Indochina bobbed up as a factor which might dash Communist aspirations to assume leadership in the new government.

A delegation of Socialists and Communists met, but the Socialists said they would not take any decision on joining the Communists in a "popular front" government until the Socialist national congress on Tuesday.

The Communists were reported to have offered to support Socialist Vincent Auriol for president of the assembly if the Socialists vote for Thorez for premier.

Meanwhile the heavy fighting that has broken out in the jungles 7,000 miles from Paris has stirred the wrath of France. One report said a major political incident connected with Indochina was narrowly averted at the national assembly's opening last Thursday.

This unconfirmed report said that Marcel Cachin, Communist who delivered the inaugural address, was all set to read a telegram from Viet-Nam leader Ho Chin Minh castigating the role of the French army, but was persuaded by radical-Socialist leader Edouard Herriot to drop the idea.

Issues Denial.

Cachin's office issued a statement denying the incident.

However the Communists have been openly sympathetic with the Viet-Namese and this could provide the hesitant Socialists with one more reason for refusing to support Thorez.

The lineup in the new assembly showed that the Communists and Socialists and their allies had 283 deputies, 33 short of a majority. The MRP had 172, the Communists 182 and the Socialists 101. Even if they gained Socialist support the Communists would need some of the radical-Socialists to join a "popular front" government, and Herriot has given no hint of his party's intentions.

Government leaders held an emergency meeting last night on Indochina. Communist armaments Minister Charles Tillot was not present.

A dispatch from Indo-China where scores have been killed in recent fighting at Haiphong, near Hanoi, and on the Chinese border, said the situation remained tense, with the Annamite population in flight from the city and French troops confined to their barracks

Lewis Counsel Plans Appeal

by every operator in the United States."

"We are ready to negotiate with Lewis any time after the miners return to work," he said, "but we are not ready to concede to Lewis what he asks The miners must live up to the present contract with the government. . . I feel neither the government nor Lewis has made the issue clear to the people or the miners."

As the nationwide walkout of the 400,000 bituminous miners passed its tenth day, the number of steel, factory and other workers laid off in the creeping industrial paralysis climbed close to 100,000. Another 167,000 were on furlough from fuel-starved factories for the Thanksgiving weekend

Meanwhile at Clarksburg, W. Va., state police Cpl. W. E. Murphy reported that a fire discovered and extinguished by railroad workers at a non-union strip coal mine tipple last night "definitely was a case of arson"

Murphy said flames at the base of the Fairpoint construction company's tipple at Ocean Mine, a few miles east of Clarksburg, had burned away several large timbers before a Baltimore and Ohio railroad crew came upon the scene

Inflammable debris had been dragged to the wooden structure and the fire set off, the officer said. The tipple is one of the largest in Harrison county where many independent strip mines have continued to operate during the soft coal work stoppage

'Postage Due' Naps In Wrong Mail Sack

SPOKANE, Wash.—(AP)—"Postage due," a capricious yellow kitten who is mascot at the Spokane mail terminal, fell asleep in a mail pouch yesterday and made an unscheduled 300-mile trip to Port Orchard, Wash.

Crated back to Spokane, "postage due" eyed a welcoming committee of employes and—dived right back into another mail sack.

Pronounced Walter Hays, chief railway mail clerk: "from now on, unless 'postage due' is in sight, all bags will undergo 'cat inspection' as well as lock inspection before being loaded out."

TWO DRIVERS CHARGED

Two drivers received summons from the Mansfield police to appear in court Monday to answer to charges of speeding Saturday night. Charged were Arthur Schonover, Mansfield, R. D. 5, 55 miles per hour on Springmill road, and Paul Morgan Markel, Nova, 50 miles per hour on Hedges street.

BANK CLEARINGS DROP SLIGHTLY

An expected up-swing in business transactions in Mansfield influenced by pre-Christmas season shopping failed to materialize last month as bank clearings in the city lagged $110,805.40 behind the all-time high of $16,208,746 established in October.

Although slightly under the October figure, November's clearings of $16,097,940.60 still exceeded by more than four and a quarter million dollars the amount of money that changed hands in the city during November, 1945, W. R. McCullough, secretary of the Mansfield Clearing House Association, reported yesterday.

To date in 1946, $157,251,906.55 has been cleared through Mansfield banks, McCullough said.

This figure exceeded by $30,712,677.24 the total of $126,539,229.31 that had cleared through Mansfield banks at this time last year.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Americans Resent Foreign Interference

KEY to the average American's thinking about foreign affairs is—FEAR.

No, Americans are not afraid of any other country or any other group of countries. They have proved that, once committed to fight, they can overcome great odds. They can survive a stab in the back. They can even play a sharp diplomatic game.

What the average American is afraid of is that some other nation is going to upset the international peacetime applecart. He fears that we will not be permitted to go our own way, improving our standards of living, and devising new ways to grow and enjoy ourselves.

The average American is very little concerned—personally—with the success or failure of the United Nations. He thinks the U. N. is a good thing. He wants it to succeed. Vaguely, he realizes that his own future welfare is bound up in it.

But mostly, the man in the street is concerned with Russia only in that he hopes the Soviets will mind their own business enough to let us mind ours. He has no concept of empire. He does not dream of expanding U. S. territory and sending further generations out as businessmen-colonists.

The average American gripes a great deal but he likes what he's got in the way of a native land and he wishes people in other countries would act the same way.

Such an attitude may be unfortunate. But it is nevertheless very real. Secretary of State Byrnes must contend with it. Diplomats of other nations must and do recognize it. Some Americans are all for world government. They are vocal, yet they are relatively few in number.

The foreign policy of the U. S. will become aggressive only in proportion as the average American substitutes interest for uneasiness in thinking of world affairs.

Ancient Romans Named It 'December'

DECEMBER—how far away this month seemed as 1946 was being entered and the bright prospects of the new year contemplated! And how bound by tradition, that "December" should be retained as a name for the twelfth month of the year, when the ancient Romans numbered it as the "tenth."

It was the Romans, it appears, who felt freer to adapt the calendar to needs, than have the people of recent centuries, a majority of whom seem content to lumber along with outmoded calculation of time rather than go to the trouble of adjusting themselves to a change.

Calendar revision, which would necessarily be international in scope, has been talked about for many years, with appearance of some progress before the war, but the United Nations is now engrossed in too many other matters to be bothered with any such relatively minor affair—so here's December, with its 31 days—and not a moment too soon to be doing your Christmas shopping.

Pastor 'Makes Good' In Home Town

ACCUSTOMED—as most people are—to the coming and going of ministers, the record of a quarter of a century of service as pastor of a church in his native city is sufficiently unusual to deserve mention.

It is just 25 years since the then youthful Rev. Charles F. Sheriff returned to his "home town" of Mansfield to become pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, and that he has continued in that capacity ever since is not only a tribute to his own increasing ability but to the fine spirit of his congregation as well.

Those who have been privileged to watch the career of "Charlie" Sheriff from early boyhood, through Mansfield high school, into college, and eventually his achievement of admission into the ministry of his church, cannot fail to recognize the qualities of boyhood and manhood that contributed largely to the accomplishment which is being given recognition today by those he has served so faithfully and well during the past two score and five years.

Negro Leader Advocates Restraint

ADDRESSING a Negro youth conference in New Orleans, Thurgood Marshall, official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, advocated a policy of restraint in relations with whites. He urged Negroes against any program of violence or disobedience in an effort to call attention to their plight in the Deep South.

Such tactics, he said, though suggested by well-meaning radical groups, "would only result in more violence, the imprisonment of hundreds of colored youths, even the death of scores with nothing accomplished except publicity."

While decrying segregation in schools and housing, he believes that the southern attitude toward the Negro is changing and the "day is not far off when he will be admitted to professional and graduate schools" of that region.

Intelligent leadership of this sort that counsels peaceful constructive approaches to race issues will lower the peaks of prejudice, soften hatreds and permit intelligent leaders of both whites and Negroes to work together. It is the only hope for a just solution of any human problem.

Bearer of Historic Name

ANYBODY named Joseph Quincy Adams might be thought to stem from the historic New England family which gave the country two presidents, and whose most eminent member was John Quincy Adams.

This was not the fact, however, in the case of the late Dr. Joseph Quincy Adams, director of the Folger library in Washington and perhaps the foremost American authority on Shakespeare. He was the son of a Southern Baptist minister of the same name, and apparently unconnected with the New England Adamses. This is their loss, for Dr. Joseph Q. Adams would have added luster to any family.

Eleanor Roosevelt (quote): "I no longer have any direct responsibility for helping to run the world"—but an occasional suggestion may probably be expected.

Claude Callan wonders: "Why doesn't the government pay me for taking care of myself instead of hiring so many others to take care of me?"

Greed For Oil Blocks Courageous Handling of the Palestine Problem

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

THE AVERAGE citizen is aware that there have been great difficulties centering about Palestine but his ideas of what has caused them or how they fit into the pattern of world affairs are likely to be somewhat dim.

Unless he is Jewish by blood, the whole thing seems as often as not, remote and even unimportant; yet the Palestine story is one of the most tragic and complicated stories of our own or any other time in history. And it is of great international and moral importance. It concerns some hundreds of thousands of people scattered over shattered Europe, who are living miserably in concentration camps or ghettos from which they wish passionately to escape, forever. Even worse, perhaps, is the fact that they are not wanted by large segments of the populations in the countries where they are unwilling half-prisoners. Many of them are subject to persecutions ranging from humiliations and insults to physical violence. They want only to leave Europe forever and go to Palestine, the ancient home of the Jews. But in their way stands a handful of backward, miserable, uncivilized people and the edict of a weakened once-great empire which has grown confused even about its own international policy. It is a terrible, tragic and dramatic story, worthy of the Old Testament.

BROMFIELD

A small Arab population, a remnant of the blighting wars of 600 years ago, occupies the Palestine territory.

It is a miserable population descended from a people who, save for a brief flowering of literature in Baghdad, centuries ago, has never known any real civilizations.

They are, as a race and a people, a blight wherever they have appeared. They have, largely speaking, laid waste and turned to a desert whatever land they have occupied. They have a huge birthrate and, fortunately for the world, an equally large death rate.

Most of them have never risen above the level of the ancient half-savage pastoral world and many of them have never risen so high

On the other hand, those Jews who have already been allowed to return to Palestine have brought with them culture, law and order. They have made the barren land desolated by the Arabs flower and bear fruit like the Garden of Eden.

They represent European civilization in all its glittering facets. They are doctors, lawyers, musicians, shopkeepers, writers. But they and their good works are held in check and their people exiled and persecuted in Europe for the sake of a small, wretched, blighting Arab population, contributing less than nothing to the civilization and progress of the world.

At the head of the Arabs stands a despotic barbarian called Ibn Saud, whose people actually rob and swindle the pilgrims of their own faith on their way to and from the shrine cities of Mecca and Medina.

The Arabs in Palestine are, largely speaking, serfs rather than free men, the victims of a handful of chiefs owning most of the land who work them bitterly at one of the lowest and most bestial standards of living the world has ever known. Neither civilization nor democracy, nor even human dignity, is really represented.

Yet this people and this man, Ibn Saud, are the objects of abject solicitude by the government of the once great British empire and even by our own government and by the late President Roosevelt who went all the way to the Bitter Lakes to make secret promises to him.

Our own state department only recently arranged a loan of ten million dollars to him, a loan which in reality was no more than an unspoken but well understood bribe.

The tragedy is that in all this muddle a sensitive and civilized and persecuted people are the pawn, principally because there is oil in the realm of disreputable old Ibn Saud Once the British protested that they could not offend the Arabs lest the offense cause uprisings among Moslem co-religionists in India, Egypt, in other parts of the empire. Yet this excuse, if the British are honest, is no longer valid for Britain is moving out of both Egypt and India.

The bald truth is that the Arabs have no real right to Palestine and Trans-Jordania. They have indeed no rights which a civilized world in the 20th Century should respect.

The way should be made clear, by force if necessary, for the agriculture, the horticulture and the civilization which the Jews have already brought into that sterile, barren barbaric part of the earth.

The Arabs could well be moved inland to the valley of the Tigris and the Euphrates where with a little effort and a little help from the outside world they could find a better living than they know now.

Russia has proposed that Palestine be taken from the British and placed under the trusteeship of the United Nations. For once, it seems to me, the Russians are right.

The situation is a shame to the British, to ourselves and to the world, in this century when so many people talk so freely and lovingly of "one world," of peace and justice.

The British have made a dreadful bungle of a situation which needs only firmness and intelligence to arrive at a solution.

So long as the oil of Arabia is at stake, there will never be a just, honest and courageous solution of the Palestine problem by Great Britain.

Here is an opportunity for the United Nations to take a definite action, to impose peace in the Near East and prove that Soviet Russia, Great Britain and the United States can work together and make agreements which are for the good of all the world. Let the three nations divide the oil, instead of each of them trying to hog it. Let them pay the Arabs fairly for that oil and let them settle the Palestine question instead of hypocritically using the tragedy as a pawn.

It is a great opportunity to prove that the United Nations can be of some real use and purpose. Up to now the record has been mostly wind, and "a sound of fury signifying nothing."

USUALLY, in times of great stress there appears from somewhere a song that reflects the spirit or at least the hope of the era. Easily recalled are "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Over There," and "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

NOW there has appeared in England a song reflecting the dream of world peace and brotherhood. It is sung to the same tune as "America" and "God Save the King." The words run like this:

"Nor on this land alone—
But be God's mercies known
From shore to shore.
Lord make the nations see
That men should brothers be
The wide world o'er."
And form one family

Lewis Condemns Communism But His Actions Aid Its Supporters

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of an open letter to John L. Lewis.)

John L. Lewis, President
The United Mine Workers
Washington, D. C.

Dear John:

A young man just out of the army was talking to me the other day. What he said represents the viewpoint of a lot of young men, and I thought you might be interested in hearing it.

"I don't know who caused the depression," he said. "But I know I didn't. I was only eleven years old when it started, and as a result I couldn't go to college. Instead I went out to support the family at sixteen, with my ambition to be a mechanical engineer gone glimmering.

"I don't know the answers on the war either. But Hitler was in Poland before I was old enough to vote, so I don't think I started it.

"However, I had to take four years out of my life to help finish it. And when I came home, my wife and I had grown so far apart that our marriage flopped.

"All that may have been inevitable, and I'm not complaining about the past. I don't begrudge the four years I gave to my country. But I do begrudge the present and future. What I'm interested in is where we go from here. And judging by the strikes and the general attitude of kick-the-other-fellow-in-the-shins, we aren't getting anywhere fast."

Your own boy, Mr. Lewis, was luckier than that. You were able to send him to the Woodbury School in Virginia, then to Princeton, then to medical college. Which is all right. He is a fine boy, and deserved all the education he could get. But there are thousands of others who were not so lucky as your boy. And they are asking the very same question as my friend—where does the country go from here? And why do certain leaders keep on muddying up their lives?

Youths' Contract With USA.

They too have a contract—a contract with life—to do for the world as they are done by. It may not be written in black and white, as your contract with the government, but it's there just the same. And without quibbling over legal loopholes, they want to make something of that contract—just as your boy does. Many of them have spent their best years fulfilling their end of the contract—all the way from Guadalcanal to Normandy—and now what they want is a period without depressions and without wars to collect some dividends.

And they know—far more than you and I realize—what broken contracts will mean in this highly integrated, highly sensitized world.

They know, for instance, that when you broke your contract with the government, the government in turn had to break its contract with France for coal. That means several million people in France will suffer this winter. I know something about that, because my brother and his four kids are over there, and their ration for all last winter was one ton of coal. This year they are hoping to do better, but, thanks to a broken contract they won't.

However, they can buy wood at $50 a cord. And much more important are millions of others in France who can't buy wood and who are going to say: "The United States broke its contract." More important also are the French industries which won't operate; and finally the growing number of people now leaning toward communistic Russia and away from the kind of democracy jointly founded by America and France.

Lewis Fomels Communism.

All your life John Lewis, you have been the sworn enemy of Communism. I was looking up your speeches made back in the Wilson administration, and even then, twenty-five years ago, you were denouncing the Reds just as vigorously as you have been since. I agree with you on this. But right now you yourself have become the greatest single contributor to the growth of Communism in the entire United States.

You are the chief American instigator of Communism in Europe, and you may be the chief instigator right here in the United States. You are the best friend and collaborator the Reds have.

For a cold and shivering world plays right into the hands of every Red agitator from Seattle to Salerno.

France is not the only country which will suffer from broken contracts. There is England which had contracted to get certain goods from us, especially food. And finally there is Italy. Your government, John, has a contract with Italy to deliver all the coal that country planned to use this winter. Now, that contract is broken.

Do you know what that means? Hitler knew what it meant, and all during the war he used coal to whip the people of Italy into line. He knew that merely by cutting off several thousand coal cars from the Brenner Pass, the Italian people would shiver and Italian industry would grind to a stop.

To replace that German coal, Italy had a contract with us. Now, it won't be kept. Forgetting any sympathy you or I might have for the Italian people, let's consider what that means to future generations, to your boy and mine. It means that the Italians, who have been trying under great adversity to steer an even course away from both Fascism and Communism, will now be more susceptible to agitators from both sides.

In other words, John, you are now helping the people you have spent your life denouncing.

How Fascism Started.

I was in Italy after World War I before Mussolini came into power, and it was the strikes, depression, broken contracts and broken promises, plus a great sense of frustration, which finally drove the Italian people into the arms of Fascism.

In your limited walks from the United Mine Workers' offices to the Carlton hotel, you may not grasp the fact that the American people are feeling the same sense of frustration today. They are tired of living in jerks. They are tired of getting up steam for a long stretch of work and then being jerked to a sudden stop by strikes.

And while they sympathize with the fact that the cost of living has gone up for miners, they also know that it has gone up for 140,000,000 other people, most of whom do not have powerful unions which can paralyze the United States until their cost-of-living demands are met.

They also recall that it was you—supported by Bill Green and Senators Taft and Wherry—who yelled loudest for the end of controls on food, and the end of wage stabilization.

This was all right for you—your mighty union is in a position to get what it wants. But it is not all right for millions of others who are unorganized.

No, John, there are some 140,000,000 other people living in this country, who, like the young man I just quoted, believe that they also have a contract—a contract to live and work and enjoy the fruits of their toil. And there is no clause in their contract whereby one man has the right to topple the economy of their country like a juggler stopping in the middle of his act.

You, John Lewis, conspired to ship oil to Fascist Germany when she was menacing all that we stood for. Now you refuse to mine coal for Italy when she is trying to live down her Fascism. Once may be a mistake, but twice may be treason.

The American people are patient people, but I warn that their patience some day may reach the boiling point.

And when that time comes, not only the hard-won gains of labor, but the cherished guarantees by which you have the right to stand up in court and defend yourself will be swept into one pile and go up in the same flame which Mussolini lit when he took advantage of Italian frustration.

If this time ever comes, you, John Lewis, will have done more to fan the flame than any other man in America.

Once your friend,
DREW PEARSON.

Could You Be Your Own Boss?

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I RECEIVE a tremendous number of letters these days, largely from young men recently released from the army, who disagree with the status quo and, although they differ on many points, they almost invariably agree on one complaint—they all want to be their own bosses

They all want to run some little business of their own where they can control their own hours and wages and personal pursuits.

Now, there's nothing wrong in this primarily.

You would be a queer sort if you hadn't felt the same way at the same age.

But it just isn't possible, boys—it just isn't possible.

Some of us are able to be our own bosses but they are very few. Most of us need a boss to stand over us and an organization into which to fit.

This will rouse your ire but it's the truth. The average human brain hasn't developed far enough yet to control the gigantic machinery and industry of the machine age. It's got to be bossed.

This doesn't mean that you have to join the unions. Although I was brought up on unionism I still have my tongue in my cheek about them. Meaning, frankly, that I think that Phil and Al are running things too much their own way and the average union man doesn't get as much out of it as he has a right to expect.

(Dear Editor: If these feeble words merit shooting at sunrise, bring on your guns. I know both these guys and would like both of them better if they were starving.)

And that's jake too. The average guy's expectations are far beyond his abilities.

I would like to run the Hearst chain of papers. Could I do it? I could not. I haven't what it takes. The Chief has.

And what goes for my job goes for most of our jobs. We couldn't function without 567 other fellows functioning with us. We couldn't be our own bosses. And the sooner the G. I.'s get that through their bravely stubborn skulls the better it will be for all of

Too many lives are wasted because, with our first tottering steps, we are told that—

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene.
"The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear:
"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
"And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

It's the bunk. You are not a gem of purest ray serene, nor am I. You're not a flower born to blush unseen, and neither am I. We're just a couple of good common guys who can do a good common job and the sooner we get hep to that fact, the happier and healthier we all will be

The trouble with most of us at the present time is—we're too big for our pants and we should take in a few pleats. I hope this makes a lot of people mad.

Farmer's Diary: "Something Is Wrong."

"I'VE JUST read your column asking 'What kind of Education Should Educators of the World Organize?'" writes a Loudonville, Ohio, reader, and I think it is fine that someone is gotten around to asking a question like that.

"When I was a child, news of all the country didn't get around to me . . . my father had only a meager education, yet I've heard him say often, 'When my Dad spoke, we knew to move' . . . and along with obedience he had acquired a Christian conscience.

"Well, I guess there were not enough parents like my grandparents and my parents, for educators commenced to say the little schools should be abandoned and consolidated schools established, to do a much better job at less cost than all the little schools could possibly do

"Please take notice . . . I do believe that parents want the best for their children, for they established the little schools, then they replaced them with the big schools. But something is wrong. Many of the children are not turning out satisfactorily. Please remember now, the schools were to educate the children, because the parents couldn't. And now that all available material has been supplied for the promotion of learning, does the school take the blame when a child fails? Absolutely NO! They say it is the parents' fault!

"In a manner of speaking, then, what have we gained by schools? Who are these parents of today? Aren't they the product of better schools, bigger schools? Then why aren't they better parents than my grandfather was? I say this: An educated person will not blame the parents any more than he will the school, but if he sees the lack, he will pitch in to make it right.

"I'll tell you where the lack is. 'Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness', and everything shall be added . . . The last ball game I was near made me think what if as many people would yell as loudly 'Get in there and fight, fight, fight' for the Christian way of life. I've tried, and am still trying to speak for God at every opportunity, but I'm feeling like it's so little and so late. But if millions of us would rise up and jump and clap our hands and shout for victory on the Lord's side as they do for victory at ball games, without doubt we'd be getting somewhere!

"If I would build a building,
where would I begin?
At the top or bottom, or where
I enter in? . . .
God gave us our foundation, the only one you'll find
That will endure forever the trials of mankind . . .
Why strive in conferences and counsel here and there?
The Ten Commandments—yes,
eleven—will bind men everywhere."

THE BYRD expedition to the South Pole sails Monday . . . last chance to get away from it all.

Byrd is going back to see if the pole is still there . . . it may have been "liberated" since he saw it last.

The expedition doesn't pay much but it's a chance for a man to retain his sanity.

Timely Editorial

It Would Be Too Much.

We admit our shock on hearing that Gen. MacArthur's headquarters has brought system to the naming and numbering of Tokyo streets so that one may proceed to a given point without waste motion.

Such reforms can be carried too far. In their enthusiasm, the occupying forces may attempt to export the idea to the United States.

We might even be forced to dispense with our time-honored custom of tracking down an address with the aid of a city map and the patient advice of any number of traffic cops, filling station attendants and strolling citizens who usually don't know what they're talking about.—Detroit News.

As Others See It

Best Wishes.

Something constructive is at last being done about the housing shortage. All authorities are getting together to extend best wishes for a warm winter.—Boston Globe.

Railway Station Becomes Home for Lexington Agent and Family

SOAP, WATER, LOTS OF PAINT SOLVE PROBLEM

Quarters So Please Couple They Don't Care to Move.

By NITA BRANSON

Faced with a homeless winter for his family, one Richland county man has solved the housing problem with traditional American ingenuity.

Unable to find a home for his wife and seven-year-old son, Nelson Lewis, agent and telegraph operator at the B and O depot in Lexington, took the only housing unit available!

He moved his family into the depot.

Lewis' wife, Eva, told about it. "There was a lot of red tape, of course," she said, "before we could get a lease. But Nelson told the railroad company that he would have to quit his job unless we had some place to live.

"My son, Richard, and I and our other son, 17, had been living with my mother in East Townsend. But we've been married for 21 years and we thought that was no way to live, with Nelson down here in a hotel and the rest of us in East Townsend. So the B and O finally arranged things and here we are."

"Here we are" is very nice indeed! But it took a month of hard work to make it so. The upstairs storage room over the depot waiting room was filthy and painted an unattractive green, Mrs. Lewis said.

"I used three boxes of cleaning powder and I don't know how many buckets of water to make this place clean," she added. "It hadn't been used in 30 years and you can imagine how dirty it was."

After the dirt was removed, the Lewises began painting.

"We used four gallons of ecru paint," Mrs. Lewis recalls.

Plants Brighten Windows.

Now the big room shines with cleanliness, crisp white curtains and even plants in the windows.

For heat, Lewis took one of the two radiators which had been in the downstairs waiting room and installed it upstairs. He placed it at right angles to the wall so that it forms a sort of partition between the kitchen-dining room and the living room.

He put small hooks in the ceiling across the living room and again between the two sections of the room, so that curtains may be drawn at night and whenever they wish to shut off one part of their apartment.

Don't Want to Move.

"I'm very content," Mrs. Lewis said, as she sat embroidering. "I wasn't sure that I would be, in such a small town, but I like it very much. And we're together, of course, except for our older son, Nelson, jr. He is staying with his grandmother and going to high school.

"But Richard likes his school here and also likes this apartment. I heard the other day of a house that might be vacant, but Richard said, 'Oh, Mother, don't let's leave here. I like it.' So I guess we're here to stay for as long as we wish."

Lewis is just as pleased with their new home.

"One nice thing about it," he declared, "I won't have to plough through snowy roads to get to my work. I can just run downstairs and be here."

With Railroad 17 Years.

The Lewis' little dog, Pinky, seems to like it as well as the family.

Lewis has worked for the B and O company for about 17 years, 16 of those years as policeman. He only recently has become telegraph operator, a business he learned in the navy when only 15. But he had retained enough of that learning to take it up again with little effort. And he finds the inside work much better.

HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS—Just being together makes it "home" for Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lewis and son, Richard, even if their dwelling is in the second floor of the B and O station at Lexington. They took over and redecorated the upstairs room when they found it impossible to find other living quarters. Above, top, Mrs. Lewis stands in her sunny kitchen, showing how she cooks in the big electric roaster. Below, Lewis sits at his telegraph operator's table in the depot office.—(News-Journal staff photos)

Year By Year . . . Christmas After Christmas . . .

Folks of this community have depended upon Jones for gifts of outstanding worth. Experience has proven that the dependability of Jones is not an idle advertised gesture but in fact a reality.

We are not infallible, and we make mistakes, but we are always more than willing to see that the "customer is right." This too is not idle talk but another reality.

Such dependability comes from within, and goes back to the manufacturer, so Jones have chosen only those nationally known makers whose merchandise is proven, to offer to our customers.

From the magnificent Steinway, the ever dependable Betsy Ross, from the renowned Capehart and Stromberg Carlson to the popular Philco, and from the shops of Kindel and Baker and Willett to the dependability of other fine makers comes all of these things to Jones.

Is it any wonder why, newcomers to Mansfield in being advised, always come to Jones. May we have the privilege to prove these things to you, this Christmas or next, or next. Our store was never more diversified with fine things than now.

Peacemakers Present Study In Contrasts

Molotov Plays Star Role; Byrnes Maintains Balance

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Vyacheslav Molotov has hunched shoulders which probably come from long hours, and years of leaning over conference tables. He has a fierce, jutting chin suitable for a prize-fighter and a small moustache that looks anything but pugilistic. His hair is thin and his manner usually is brusque.

The gentleman from Moscow does not look the part, but undoubtedly he is the glamor boy of the big international pow-wows now meeting in and out of secret, in and around New York. He always draws the big crowds.

Molotov has something which James F. Byrnes, the American secretary of state, lacks almost entirely and Ernest Bevin, the British foreign minister, has only in limited degree. It is a flair for high drama in oratory, an ability to preach politics as other men preach religion, and an unfailing capacity for springing the unexpected.

THAT AT LEAST, is the way he has impressed people, and in debates which are largely conducted with an eye to public reaction it is an important point—even when people disagree with what Molotov wants.

Byrnes brings to diplomacy a kind of senatorial calm. In the foreign minister's skyscraper council chamber in a New York hotel, he frequently addresses Molotov across the big round conference table as "my good friend, Mr. Molotov."

His voice is likely to be level and softened with South Carolina accents. But it is no longer the voice of a compromiser, as he described himself in his first months after he became secretary of state in the summer of 1945.

Those who admire his present firm line toward Molotov say no man, certainly at his age, has ever learned so much about foreign affairs in so short a time.

BEVIN, A GREAT bear of a man who looks at least as belligerent as Molotov and sometimes has met the Russian's calculated moves with a terrible, flaring anger, gets along well with Byrnes. A hearty man, he likes a good joke or story. Those seldom enter into Big-Four talks but occasionally Bevin will josh Molotov when the latter is blocking a final agreement, reminding him that "we've got to get home sometimes."

Byrnes and Molotov also have a standing joke formula. After they have argued a long time on an issue and a compromise formula has about been reached, Byrnes often will say he has made many concessions and is happy at last to be over on the side of "my good friend, Mr. Molotov." The Soviet diplomat is likely to retort—often with considerable accuracy—that "Mr. Byrnes," as he always calls him, is on the Russian side because it had moved about 90 per cent of the distance to meet the American view.

IN ADDITION to his personal qualifications for capturing popular imagination, Molotov actually appears to have in hand a highly flexible diplomacy. Western diplomats contend that this is because it can be maneuvered without detailed regard to Russian public opinion, and without necessarily altering the long-range foreign policy of the Soviet union.

At critical moments, the Soviet line changes sensationally. After months of stubborn fighting over Trieste against Byrnes and Bevin, Molotov has made here a startling series of concessions which has all but broken the Triest deadlock.

In his opening speech at the United Nations assembly he gave Anglo-American capitalist imperialism a terrific beating. Not intimated by his own words, he then predicted the western countries and Communist Russia would be able to reconcile their disputes over such matters as control of the atomic bomb. He topped off his oratory with a plan—like the cherry on the sundae—for getting to work on world arms controls.

Fish and Game Group to Elect

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Richland county Fish and Game association will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at North Lake Park pavilion, John Friday, president, announced today. Fred Frankeberger will preside as chairman.

Attorney at 77 Puzzled As Bowling Score Drops

When a man reaches 77, he's expected to slow down a bit.

But the only concession that Attorney John F. Kramer will make toward an approaching 78, is to admit that his "bowling score has gone down a mite," during the past year.

But he still doesn't see why it should! Attorney Kramer adheres to a noon hour schedule of exercise that would probably stop a man twenty years his junior.

For 25 years Atty. Kramer has gone to the YMCA during lunch hour to join in a game of volley ball. He does this Mondays and Fridays and, if with a clear conscience he can skip his service club meeting, he does it also on Wednesdays.

In addition to volley ball, Atty. Kramer bowls on Monday night, and at noon hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays he plays a little "38" pool at the Masonic Temple.

Besides his game-playing, Attorney Kramer walks to and from his home on Lexington avenue to his office in the Richland Trust company every day. He gets up at six and is always down town by seven.

"I have to get a lot of exercise," he says, "because I've worked harder the last six years than I ever did in my life."

This past year, Atty. Kramer's bowling score was a mere 140; in other years, it reached 170. Those 30 points in between seem to worry him.

"A fellow ought to get at least 160," he declared.

There are other fine habits in Atty. Kramer's rigid daily schedule that help keep him "young in heart."

About one of these habits he says, "I always like to associate with young folks. Where some folks get old is in associating with people their own age. They get into a rut about things."

He is the only one left of the original class who began playing volley ball 25 years ago. He still, according to YM officials, plays a good game and can hold his own with the best of them.

A quarter of a century might seem about the average for a man to indulge in his favorite sports, but Attorney Kramer has no intention of quitting.

"I suppose I'll still be playing at 80," he thinks.

HOROSCOPE

For Monday, December 2.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is a most encouraging one for launching affairs of major importance. There is a definite sway of an expanding and productive solidity for the attainment of the highest ambitions and long term plans and progress. This propitious influence applies to financial, professional, social, domestic and romantic aims and aspirations and should respond to splendid reactions in all hopes and desires. Nevertheless, a negative angle might develop from some false move or erratic behavior, in word and action. Shun emotional or turbulent conduct.

Those whose birthday it is should find themselves in a period of expansion and growth of exceptional aid in putting over extensive plans and projects long desired. The highest of hopes and wishes should be progressively and enduringly established under this benign rule. The finances increase together with enhanced prestige and popularity. This will be attained richly in financial, business, professional life; as well in social life. But keep clear of any show of false moves or erratic conduct. Keep the emotions for expression in romantic or domestic felicity, which should also thrive.

A child born on this day should be richly endowed with many talents and faculties

Experts Vary On Outlook for 1947

DEBATE FAILS TO DECIDE ON BOOM OR BUST

Some Economists See No Real Reason for Recession.

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The burning question is "recession or boom in 1947?"

Talks with highly placed government fiscal and economic experts bring out these facts:

1. Many, probably most, expect a recession in 1947, followed by a prolonged boom. Some believe the boom will end in a crash.

2. A few see "no compelling reason" for an economic slump in the foreseeable future. But these do not predict it will not occur.

Men in the latter group feel that it's quite possible the country is "talking itself into a depression."

One of them explains it thus:

"They say 'we had a depression after the last war, therefore we'll have one after this war. This war lasted twice as long, so the depression will come twice as late and be twice as bad.'"

But, this man added, business conditions then and now differ in many respects. The national economy now includes many governmental agencies and institutions which it did not have before the 1929 crash. This man and others who think like him look to these agencies to buttress the economy against collapse.

Newest and most strategically placed of such units is the president's Council of Economic Advisers, whose job is to gather economic facts and recommend measures to promote the nation's economic well-being.

What the council says in its first report—a confidential memorandum to the president due Dec. 16—may supply the key to the administration's economic policies for the coming year. The president, under the "full employment" act of 1946, will make an economic report to congress at the beginning of the next session, presumably based on the council's findings.

Whatever action the council may recommend, many experts in other agencies of the government doubt that any steps could be taken in time to avert a recession in 1947 if one is on the way.

Here are five ways these pessimistically inclined experts say they think a recession might get started next year:

1. If prices get too far ahead of wages, buying might slacken, production slow down, workers be thrown out of jobs.

2. When warehouses and shelves are well stocked, the resulting drop in dealer demand for goods might throw production off balance. (It is estimated that from two to three million persons are employed producing goods for inventory buyers.)

3. Some producers, unable to procure certain parts and materials to complete their product, are piling up unfinished and unsaleable merchandise. The lack of a turnover is threatening some businesses, particularly small manufacturers.

4. Wages and other costs are rising faster than some business men say they can increase their prices. This might squeeze some out of business.

5. Although employment is practically at a maximum, many factories are running at slow speed because of shortages of materials. Large numbers of employes are hired on a stand-by basis against the time the employer can obtain materials or facilities. This time may not come soon enough for some employers.

Prices and production, two of the basic factors, are now almost entirely out of the control of the government.

The optimists—of whom President Truman and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder have been among the most outspoken—list many favorable factors now prevailing.

1. Highest level of peacetime employment in history—57,400,000.

2. Industrial production at a peacetime high. The Federal Reserve board's adjusted index of production for September stands at 177 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

3. Steel ingot production in November above 91 percent of capacity—a new post-war high.

MANSFIELD ALBUM—If you're an "old timer" and have kept track of Mansfield construction during the last 50 years, you may recognize this picture. There was a difference of opinion about last week's "album." Atty. William M. Weldon and M. F. Cline identified it as the old dry goods store run by Moses Black, located at the site of present Richland Trust company. E. W. Dann says "it is undoubtedly" the Smith building now occupied by the R. B. Maxwell company. Miss Katherine Ritchie agrees with Cline. The tipoff to the picture was at the far left where the letters ACK, identifying the store once occupied by Moses Black, were distinguishable. However, none of those who sent in identifications made any comment on the fact that in the foreground appeared members of the old Mansfield Volunteer Fire Department, which protected the city from damaging fires before the city started to employ a full time force of fire-fighters. Can you identify today's picture?

10,000 Mansfield Women Take Coats From Storage

Synonymous with "Ol' Man Winter" in most women's minds are fur coats!

Now that the chilly gentleman seems to be definitely here for the 1946-47 season, 10,000 fur coats will have come out of moth balls to appear on the backs of lucky Mansfield women!

At least that many, according to Mansfield furriers, were stored away for the summer months. Added to that are perhaps a couple hundred more which were sent to big city vaults.

Each year the number of women who put their luxurious coats in the "cold" for the hot weather is increasing. For many women winter without a fur coat is an unthought of thing—they'd much prefer going without that new living room suite for instance, than to brave Ol' Man Winter's icy blasts without the protection of silky pelts.

Feeling so, women are more and more realizing that the price of a fur coat can't be garnered off some Midas-like bush at the touch of a hand and that once they've got themselves decent garments, it is the essence of common sense to take care of it.

So into storage they go during the hot, moth-generating weather!

And speaking of fur coats, this year's favorite for teen agers is mouton lamb, that shiny, smooth-looking pelt that looks luxurious, feels luxurious and regardless of price, gives a pretty good imitation of luxury. For the teen-ager's mother in average circumstances, muskrat in any form seems to be preferred. Perhaps the new silver blue or blue mist, as it is also known, is more often chosen this fall than last year's favorite mink or sable-dyed muskrat.

This autumn's warm weather had a slightly depressing effect on the fur coat sale but the past week's chilly winds have helped that situation, say Mansfield dealers. The final word is that most stores fur coat sales are coming right along, in spite of the heavy luxury tax.

DEBARKATION BEGINS

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus—(AP)—Debarkation of 3,800 illegal Jewish immigrants—the largest group ever brought to the Cyprus detention camp from Palestine—was started yesterday from three British vessels anchored in Famagusta Roads. Authorities said the landings probably would occupy several days.

MANSFIELD GIRL LEADS YOUTH MEET

Miss Ruth Hockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hockett, 264 Hammond avenue, will lead the Ohio Christian Youth conference when it convenes in Columbus next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Hockett, a senior at Otterbein college and state president of the conference, described its purpose as the "bringing together" of Christian young people for program planning, fun and fellowship. The conference theme is "Youth and Community Leadership."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche is scheduled to talk to the conference in the Hall of Representatives just before noon Saturday.

STATE FORESTS GROW

CHILLICOTHE — (AP) — The state forestry division has announced the acquisition of an additional 1,071 acres for the Shawnee state forest. The land, lying west of State Route 112 and on the Scioto-Pike county border, was bought from J. A. Distel of Portsmouth for $7,000.

Was Lewis' Strike Call Justified?

This week's forum was conducted by Art Anderson, photographer-reporter, roaming downtown streets.)

Do you think John L. Lewis was justified in calling a coal strike?

E. E. NIMAN, Greenwich, R. D. 2, "I personally feel that Lewis had no right to call the miners out. I think that he could have settled his disputes with the operators by some other method. The miners could have gone on working and the whole thing might have been settled by arbitration."

B. W. DONAHUE, 97 East Fourth street. "Yes, I think he was justified in calling the strike. I believe that Lewis will win out in what he wants. I also feel that, not only the miners, but working people all over the country will benefit by the strike, if Lewis wins out."

WORTH WALLACE, Hayesville. "I'll have to answer that one both yes and no. I don't think that he was justified in calling the strike because, coming at this time of the year, it will work a hardship on a lot of people. On the other hand, the cost of living has gone up and to live; the miners have to meet that cost."

R. L. RUST, 11 Flint street. "He is absolutely justified in what he is asking. What Lewis really wants is justice and not unfair high wages. He wants an agreement with the operators whereby each miner's coal will be weighed before it is washed. From each 6-ton car of coal washed before weighing the miner loses 1-ton of weight that he doesn't get paid for digging. Approximately one-half of the washed screening is coal which the operators sell without a mining cost."

GLEN MORRISON, 26 North Benton street. "No, especially not at this time of the year. I think he could have waited until late spring to call the strike. Then it wouldn't have worked a hardship on so many people. Civilian products of all kinds are badly needed now and production on these will be affected if the strike continues for any length of time."

MRS. IVAN MILLIGAN, 57 South Walnut street. "No. A strike as broad as this one is hard on working people other than the miners. We have to burn coal to heat our house, and when the strike was called we were caught short. I'm sure a lot of other people also find themselves in the same situation."

MRS. MARY BEARDON, Galion. "Yes. I think that he was justified in calling the strike because the miners need higher wages. They start working in the mines as small boys and are soon in debt. They grow to manhood, get married, raise a family and are never free of debt until they die. Being in debt constantly forces the families to deal at the company commissary where their bills are deducted from wages before they are paid. Their health and safety are constantly endangered while working in the coal mines."

WHISKY STOLEN

CINCINNATI — (AP) — A trailer containing 600 cases of whisky, valued at $20,000, was reported stolen yesterday from in front of the Federal Truck Lines, Inc., in the downtown area.

URGES FARMERS TO BE SPECIALISTS

Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield told 1,000 farmers yesterday at Bowling Green State university that "the day of the general farmer is disappearing, and farmers must become specialists to make a living—specialists who will make more money, work shorter hours, produce more crops of better quality on less land."

Bromfield was one of the speakers on the first annual H. J. Heinz company partners' day program.

The Bowling Green - Fremont area marketed $1,300,000 of tomatoes this season, and the H. J. Heinz company which operates canning plants in the two northwestern Ohio cities, wants growers to increase their acreage by 20 percent next year, Howard J. Heinz II, company president, told the farmers.

FORMER RIVALS SPEAK

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Scheduled to speak at the annual Gridiron club dinner in Washington Dec. 14 are President Truman and Senator-elect John W. Bricker, rival vice presidential candidates in 1944.

Death Takes Mrs. O'Donnell

Mrs. Gwendolyn Hammer O'Donnell, 49, wife of J. F. O'Donnell, an executive at the Mansfield Westinghouse plant, died late Saturday at her home at 821 Maple street after a long illness.

Mrs. O'Donnell was a native of Charleston, Ill. She came to Mansfield with her husband in 1929 and had lived here since then except for a period when they were in Los Angeles. She was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Surviving besides the husband, are one daughter, Frances Eileen, at home; her mother, Mrs. Helen Hammer and a sister, Mrs. Helen Fairman, both of Brunswick, Ga., and a sister, Mrs. Alma Chapin of Los Angeles.

The body will be at the Jones Memorial until 9:30 a. m., Tuesday when services will be conducted by Msgr. R. C. Goebel at St. Peter's Catholic church. Burial will be in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery.

Papers Issued To Farm Bureau

Incorporation of the Richland County Farm Bureau was announced yesterday by C. C. Smith, Mansfield, general manager of the bureau. Named in the incorporation, filled by R. E. Gibbs of Columbus were Warren L. Smith, president; H. S. Hulit, vice president, and Stanley Huston, secretary-treasurer.

Smith said that the incorporation was not for profit but to [illegible] educational program. The membership [illegible] bureau and to "provide greater cen- [illegible] tration" for its legislative and product [illegible]

"On the other hand, it is quite clear that widespread wage guarantees can make a substantial ... the stabilization of the economy through the stabilization of wage earner income and hence of consumer expenditures."

The report recognized that other factors must be considered "beyond the immediate expenditures for consumer goods of the recipients of guaranteed wages." It disclosed that a companion survey —as to the plan's "overall economic influence"—is being completed.

This phase of the study is being done by Professors Alvin H. Hansen of Harvard, former economic adviser of the Federal Reserve board, and Paul A. Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

In connection with Latimer's study, the CIO reiterated yesterday that Latimer had been ordered by the office of war mobilization and reconversion to wind up his work in a hurry, by Dec. 31. The CIO, which has long been encouraging the government study, said in its weekly newspaper that OWMR's action would cause the study to be abandoned before "certain vital aspects" are satisfactorily completed.

Latimer told a reporter he had "received no such orders" and the study group still has sufficient funds remaining from its $250,000 allocation to "run for several months additional."

The report said that reserves in the state unemployment compensation funds are large enough to warrant increasing the benefits a jobless worker may receive, both as to amount and duration of payments. It suggested $25 to $30 a week for 26 to 30 weeks.

But even these increased rates, the report said, would leave "ample room for voluntary supplementation of benefits" by guaranteed wage plans initiated by private business.

Janice Lavender Is Bride Of Robert S. Kuhn Saturday

By MARGARET WALTER, News-Journal Society Editor

BASKETS of white snapdragons, chrysanthemums and gladioli banked the altar of the First Presbyterian church when Miss Janice Corrine Lavender, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Lavender, 343 Park avenue west, was united in marriage to Robert Sturgess Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kuhn, 425 Marion avenue.

Rev. David N. Roller officiated at the 2:30 p. m. ceremony Saturday.

Organist for the occasion was Mrs. George W. Hall who included in her nuptial selections, "At an Old Trysting Place," MacDowell; "Serenade", Schubert; "Liebestraum; "Liszt", theme from "Romeo and Juliet", Tschaikowski; "Claire de Lune", Debussy; "O Perfect Love," and the traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Lavender was attired in the white satin wedding gown chosen by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clinton Frederick Lavender for her wedding a year ago. The fitted bodice was adorned by a wide ruffle of rose point lace at the edge of the sheer yoke and the full skirt fell into a long train. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. As her jewelry she wore a single strand of pearls and gold pin worn by her maternal grandmother at her wedding. Her bouquet was of gardenias and white carnations.

Attending the bride was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lavender of Rochester, N. Y. as matron-of-honor and Miss Margaret Hall and Miss Emily Burns as bridesmaids. The attendents were gowned in identical dresses of champagne brocade with fitted bodices, trimmed with self covered buttons, cap sleeves and full skirts. They carried bouquets of maroon carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lavender selected a sapphire blue full length gown trimmed with silver embroidery at the edges of the bracelet length sleeves. With her gown she wore shaded blue ostrich plume in her hair and her accessories were silver.

Mrs. Kuhn was attired in a model of light fuchsia crepe with gold beading and embroidery at the shoulders and belt. Wine colored feathers in her hair and gold

THAT CHRISTMAS PACKAGE—There's a right way and a wrong way to wrap that Christmas package you're planning to send to the "Folks" for the holidays. Above John Seifert, jr., clerk at the Mansfield postoffice, demonstrates the right way. No. 1, he puts a clean sheet of heavy wrapping paper around the package. No. 2, he turns up the ends and secures them with strong twine, as in No. 3. Post office officials ask package mailers to be sure the twine is heavy enough so that the package will stand the rough handling of a mail car. For those who prefer sealing tape to twine, in No. 4 Seifert shows how that must be done. Sealed packages, unless sent first class mail, must bear a merchandise sticker as the above package does, and the name of sender as well as that of the person to whom it is being sent. If the package is so wrapped, it may go as fourth class mail; otherwise, the first class postage rate applies. —News-Journal Staff Photos.)

Famous Unsolved Hall-Mills Murder Case Fades Inexorably Into Obscurity of Time

By MILTON MARMOR

SOMERVILLE, N. J. — (AP) — Time and the hand of death slowly are closing the record of one of America's most celebrated murder mysteries—the Hall-Mills case—and now, on the 20th anniversary of the end of its sensational but inconclusive trial, it appears that it may never be solved.

To those who recall when De Russey's Lane and the "Pig Woman" were topics of every-day conversation, nothing in the subsequent annals of violence and passion has succeeded in entering the niche reserved for the Hall-Mills tragedy by the morbid and the connoisseur of crime.

The climax came Dec. 2, 1926 when a Somerset county jury filed into a hushed court room here and reported that it had found three defendants innocent of the double slaying of the youthful, charming Rev. Mr. Edward Wheeler Hall and his attractive choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

The defendants were the clergyman's wife, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, aristocratic granddaughter of George Washington's chief of artillery in the American Revolution, and her two brothers, Henry Stevens, sportsman and expert rifle shot, and Willie Stevens, somewhat eccentric idler and frequenter of the New Brunswick fire houses who was "mothered" by his older sister.

Four Indicted.

The three—and a cousin, Henry de la Bruyere Carpender — had been indicted almost four years after the slayings on Sept. 14, 1922. There had been charges that the original investigations had blundered.

Now, almost a quarter of a century after the bodies of the rector and the choir singer were found in the lonely Lover's Lane, virtually all who figured in the subsequent sensational proceedings have been taken by death.

The murders came to light on a bright, warm Sunday in what seems a world ago, under a crab apple tree in a field by a Lover's Lane just across the Somerset county line on the outskirts of New Brunswick.

The rector, who had married a wealthy woman 18 years his senior, had been shot through the head. The choir singer, wife of a school janitor who also swept out the church of the Rev. Mr. Hall, had been shot three times. A single knife stroke had nearly severed her head.

Scattered beside the bodies—neatly laid out as if by careful hands—were love letters exchanged by the ill-fated pair. At the clergyman's heel—a last ironic touch—was his calling card.

Here was a crime with everything, crowded with all the requisites of a cause celebre. Mr. Hall was the respectable rector of one of the most dignified of the city's churches. Mrs. Mills, pretty and lively, was from the other side of the tracks. Mrs. Hall was a leader in the community's social life, the decendant of a noted South Carolina family, wealthy, proud and reserved.

Lane Became Famous.

There were to appear on the now misty records of the case a number of persons who were in De Russey's Lane that night. The lane had been known to many as a favored tysting place. It soon became known to the world. Within weeks the crab apple tree had disappeared, its pieces carried away as souvenirs by the curious.

Four years later, when the trial of the Stevens family finally began on Nov. 3, 1926, the promise of revelations of intrigue and love in high places had captured the world's attention.

Nothing ever had been seen like the Hall-Mills trial. As many as 300 newspapermen filed from 300,000 to 500,000 words every 24 hours. Only the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnap slaying of the Lindbergh baby less than 10 years later in Flemington, another tranquil New Jersey county seat, was to outdo this sensation.

Mrs. Hall remained cold and proud and disdainful. She rejected with scorn the state's contention that her husband had been unfaithful. She denied all charges.

Willie Stevens fooled them all. He held steadfastly to his alibi and made a creditable witness in his own defense. Henry Stevens said that he had been fishing and hunting that evening. Henry Carpenter had obtained a severance because of illness.

When they were acquitted, Mrs. Hall sailed to Italy for a rest. Willie returned into obscurity. Henry went back to his hunting and fishing.

In the last days of December, 1942 Mrs. Hall and her brother Willie died within 11 days of each other in the quiet of the stately mansion from which the Rev. Mr. Hall had stepped out to keep his rendezvous with Mrs. Mills 20 years before.

Death List Grows.

Henry Stevens had died in 1939; Carpenter died in 1934. Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "Pig Woman" who had testified that she had seen Mrs. Hall kneeling over the body of her husband in De Russey's Lane, succumbed in 1930—four years after she had made a dramatic "death bed" appearance at the trial on a stretcher. She said she had been riding down De Russey's Lane on a mule from her pig farm.

James Mills, husband of Mrs. Mills, is ailing. He never has had much to say since the night he asked his wife where she was going and she had flung back, "follow me and find out." Some years after the trial Mills observed, "I don't believe anything ever will come out of the case now."

In the Stevens family plot in a Brooklyn, N. Y., cemetery Mrs. Hall is buried by the side of her slain husband. Nearby are the remains of the others of the Stevens family.

Over the dusty records and exhibits in the Somerset county court house the mists of years are falling. Death inexorably is erasing the "pending" from the Hall-Mills case files.

Playground for Thousands Envisioned In Park Plan

A playground for thousands is envisioned for the Pleasant Hill and Charles Mill lake area east of Mansfield as the result of approval last week by the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy district court of plans for creation of public parks and recreational areas there.

The $700,000 program, designed to be self-supporting and self-liquidating from revenues derived from operation of the parks, will provide everything from hiking and picnicking to boating and fishing and organized club activities within minutes of Mansfield.

While the $700,000 is to be expended upon eight of the district's 14 lakes, some $600,000 will be used in developing three principal areas, one of which is the Pleasant Hill-Charles Mill unit, Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, one of the 18 judges comprising the district court, said.

The court last Wednesday approved a comprehensive project plan drawn by district engineers. It then voted to issue the necessary bonds to finance it. The bonds are to be backed by assessments on benefited political subdivisions within the district and by fees to be charged for use of the various facilities created by the project.

Not Good for Farming.

In the original plan the areas adjacent to Charles Mill and Pleasant Hill lakes were said to be "not readily adapted to profitable agriculture use."

"The land is rugged and cannot be divided into good farm units except at a few limited locations," the report said.

Although the land is good for forest and timber use, its greatest value is for park and recreation use, it was said.

Because of this fact—and the state legislature has already authorized the district to use district lands and facilities for recreation purposes—the district allocated marginal land to use as public playgrounds and in forestry and managed timber-cutting which will not interfere with the recreation purpose.

Population Studied.

In preparing the plans, the district engineers said, consideration was given to the number of parks and recreational areas throughout all Ohio and to the amount and classification of the population to be affected by the project.

"Initial construction work is to begin as soon as restrictions are removed and a reasonably good opportunity for construction work of this type is presented. Other features are to be built later as they become needed, desirable and economically justified," the report states.

Development of the area is needed, the plan states, "to increase the value of the district's property and assets, to provide a greater net income, to fulfill the district's commitments and obligations, to provide fuller public use and enjoyment of the improvements and facilities, and because it is good business to make the investment necessary to construct the improvements.

Danger is Cited.

"Along with other war restrictions and inconveniences, the public has accepted the fact that only a limited amount of development could be made during the period of restrictions. When these are removed, the public will expect that the facilities and services necessary to transfer potential possibilities into usable realities will be provided.

"Unless this is done, the popularity of the whole recreational program will wane, resulting in a decline in value of district property. Without development, or with only mediocre or poorly planned development, the recreational possibilities will have little economic value to the district and may even become an economic liability."

The entire program is not only the district's. According to the plan approved by the district court, the state highway department has agreed to cooperate in constructing the necessary roads and highways to make the playgrounds available to the public.

Highway Being Built.

Already the department is constructing a new portion of State Route 95 near Newville. It is a relocation job made necessary because Pleasant Hill lake, when at its maximum level, would flood the highway. The project, begun late in the summer, is nearing completion now. Working on this project is the George B. Herring and Son company, contractors.

The district's lakes have long been considered ideal for recreational purposes. The lakes cover some 16,000 acres and have a total shoreline mileage of 365 miles. Depths average from a low of 5.5 feet at Charles Mill lake to a maximum of 195 at Leesville (Carroll county). Maximum depths range from 12 feet at Charles Mill to 49 feet at Pleasant Hill.

Other lakes affected by the program at Atwood (Carrol county), Seneca (Noble county), Piedmont (Belmont county), Tappan (Harrison county), and Clendening (Harrison county.)

SINGS WITH MAXWELL—Helen Benner, radio singer, will appear with Richard Maxwell at the First English Lutheran church on Dec. 8 at 8 p. m. Miss Benner, possessor of a lovely mezzo-contralot voice, will appear as one of the guest artists on the Veterans' Hospital Program association entertainment featured for that evening. In her appearance here, she will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" from Handel's Messiah; the "Angelus" by Victor Herbert and the stimulating "I Just Keep Living Along."

High Filming Costs Threaten To Kill Off Movie Cartoons

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— There is no cause for rejoicing these days—among those who like movie cartoons. Donald Duck, Bugs Bunny and Andy Panda appear doomed to cavort less and less on the nation's screen, and may face eventual extinction.

That's the gloomy outlook presented by Hollywood cartoon makers. Columbia has already abandoned its screen gems, and other announcements are in the making.

Walter Lanz, president of the Screen Cartoon Producers association, declares the public will see fewer cartoons in 1947, and as for 1948—well, he shudders to think of it.

The reason for this pessimism is that cartoon costs have risen 165 per cent since 1941, while rentals to exhibitors have upped only 12 per cent.

Although theater attendance is the greatest in history, cartoons get only a flat $2.50 to $4 for each play date, while the better features get a healthy percentage of the take.

Added to this is the trouble in getting color prints; and the public will not accept black and white cartoons.

Eh, what's up, Bugs Bunny? Worried?

ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT movie patrons can expect is longer pictures this winter. The prestige pictures are coming, and you'd better get in training for them. Just how to do that I don't know, but you might try a few squatting exercises.

Film producers apparently work under the theory that in order to be great, a picture has to be long. Take a look at super-specials designed for academy consumption. Briefly, "Yearling," 135 minutes; "Duel," 140, "Till the Clouds," 137, "Razor," 145; "Wonderful Life," 125; "Best Years," a monumental 170.

It's no reflection on the quality of the film, but I still have a pain in my neck from gazing up at the last-named picture. But then, I guess every occupation has its hazards.

Pennies should not be placed behind fuse plugs in a fuse box as they destroy value of the fuse as a safety valve.

YMCA HYFUN 'Like Party at Home' for Teenagers

Weekly Dances Attract Ever Bigger Attendance

By AL PREYER

Just like a party at home—only you can invite a bigger gang.

This is the general opinion voiced by Mansfield high school youths who crowd the dance floor, recreation room, and snack bar at the YMCA during the weekly Monday and Friday night HYFUN club youth center recreation dances.

"We've been having these dances, and they've been growing in size, since way back in 1940. We think that more high school kids ought to know about it," said Betty Timmons, 17, of 76 Brickman avenue, as she took time out from a swing number.

"Here's where we have our fun every week. You don't have to belong to the Y to come to the dances. All you have to be is a high school student or an ex-high school student not over 21."

Dress Is Informal.

"Yes, and dress is informal. That's another great thing about it," said John Park, 16, of 121 Western avenue. "This is a wonderful place to get together and meet your pals. We need more things like this, and we need more room."

"That's why we're all so anxious to have a new Y and youth recreation center as soon as possible," interjected J. R. Cole, 16, of 498½ Cline avenue. "We do need a new 'Y' because all of our activities are centered here and we need more room and more facilities to take care of the 350 members we have now."

The series of youth recreation dances began in 1940 under the joint sponsorship of the YM and YWCA. At that time they were called the Monday and Friday night clubs.

Clubs Merged In 1941.

The program grew so rapidly that in 1941 the clubs merged and have been operating as one group ever since with increased success. The HYFUN has grown from approximately 100 members in 1940 to the present membership of 350.

Music for dances is generally provided by the juke box. However, once a month, an orchestra produces the rhythms for dancing.

When the youths are not dancing they may relax in the large lounge and "chew the fat" in the snack bar from which cooling refreshments may be obtained after a particularly invigorating "jive" number.

Name New This Year.

The name HYFUN was adopted this year when the YM and YW got together and set up their own youth council to run the show. Officers are Jean Daugherty, president; William McGraw, vice president; Lois Richert, recording secretary; Ruth Ann Bush, corresponding secretary. Committee members are Mary Cole, Robert Frere, Doris Alverson, Janet Delaney, John Parks, Betty Timmons, J. R. Cole, David Boals, Dick Flockencier and Joann Freeland.

Advisors are Miss Elizabeth Chapin of the YWCA and Donald Cram of the YMCA.

"Just tell the folks," was the general request, "that on Monday and Fridays when they hear the sound of music and laughter floating from the 'Y' that we feel 'there's no place like home.'

"The Y is like a big home to us where we can have a big party twice a week. We hope the public will support the move for a new building where we can expand still further and offer our fun to more of Mansfield's youths."

Prizes At Chicago Show Go to Teen-Age Farmers.

CHICAGO —(AP)— Three teen-age exhibitors from Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa—two boys and a girl and a Canadian grain grower —yesterday divided major honors at the International Livestock Exposition.

A pretty 15-year-old girl, red-haired Phyllis Bonnater of Keswick, Iowa, saw her 1,260 pound Hereford steer adjudged junior champion steer of the 47th show.

Despite the loss of his right arm in a farm accident last April, William "Bill" Worthington, 19-year-old Pontiac, Ill., farm youth, captured the purple ribbon for the junior grand champion hog.

Another junior champion who emerged with a purple ribbon from the first day's competition in the eight day show, was Wayne Disch, 16, of Evansville, Wis.

Besting all junior competitors for the champion pen of three Southdown lambs, Wayne, a confident, competent sheepman, showed not only the grand champion pen but also the reserve grand champion.

Grain judges, burdened with the gigantic task of selecting the best of some 3,000 samples of grain from United States and Canadian exhibitors, were able yesterday to reach only one final determination, that of "rye king."

The new "rye king," the first selected since the last international exposition in 1942, is W. S. Simpson, a Canadian grain grower of Dawson Creek, B. C., whose entry weighed 56.6 pounds a bushel.

Young Worthington won the junior hog grand championship with his 228 pound Hampshire barrow, "Mike" a sleek black and white animal that was brushed and polished to perfection.

BACK TRUMAN IN MINE FIGHT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has strong backing from congressmen of both parties for a non-compromise, finish fight with John L. Lewis, a check disclosed yesterday.

Almost without exception, Democrats and Republicans said they think Mr. Truman should go to a final showdown with the United Mine Workers chieftain, without making any concessions that could be heralded as a victory for Lewis.

Responsible Republicans in the house, who did not want to be quoted by name because they insisted that until Jan. 3 it is Mr. Truman's battle, told a reporter that the GOP-controlled congress is certain to consider legislation directed at throttling Lewis' power if the coal strike is not ended before it meets.

In the senate, the only available member who saw any hope of compromise was Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), listed as strong supporter of organized labor in the past.

Thomas said he thinks some compromise could be found by which a welfare fund could be established permanently for the miners, if that is Lewis' main objective in attempting to terminate the UMW contract with the government. This contract provides for such a fund, but mine owners have not agreed to it.

KILLS GRANDFATHER, GETS PRISON TERM

SUTTON, W. Va.— (AP) —Woodrow Wilson Conrad, 32, of Burnsville, began an 18-year prison term yesterday for second-degree murder in the fatal beating of his grandfather, 75-year-old Porter Ratliff.

A Braxton county jury convicted Conrad Friday, and Circuit Judge Jake Fisher, terming the crime "aggravated second-degree murder," imposed the maximum sentence. The indictment charged Conrad with beating the old man to death with a chair last April 6.

Leaking Gas Cited In Suit for $7,500

Margaret Boyer, Lind avenue, Saturday filed action in Richland county common pleas court asking $7,500 judgment for injuries to her health and medical expenses she said were the result of being overcome by gas leaking from a defective heater.

Defendants were listed as James L. Metcalf and Mary J. Metcalf of 298 West Third street, and the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

The plaintiff charges negligence on the part of the Metcalfs, as owners of the property in which she occupied an apartment at 299 West Dickson avenue, Dec. 1, 1944, and the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

Louisville Churchmen Skip 'Alarm' Waves, But Quietly Push Governmental Reforms

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(AP)— Two hundred Louisville churchmen have found a way to translate practical Christianity into practical government.

Crusading preachers and periodic reform waves by church folks are common enough in American public life. But these Louisville churchmen quietly study jails, courts, hospitals and public homes. They observe conditions, compare practices with those in other states, and have a program to suggest before they criticize.

This group is known as the committee on institutions of the Louisville Council of Churches. In the five years of its existence it has worked no miracles, but gradually it is beginning to make its efforts felt in better government tional "view with alarm" attitude.

Perhaps the chief reason the committee has been successful has been its care to avoid the traditional "view with alarm" attitude.

Instead of launching a fiery crusade or a spectacular reform wave, the committee first obtains the facts, then comes forward with suggestions.

The warden, jailer or superintendent of the institution or department is visited and the subcommittee which has been studying his work presents some of the results of its investigations and a suggestion or two for improvement.

It doesn't rebuke the official for inefficiency. It doesn't accuse him of mismanagement or graft. In fact, it starts out by finding something he has done which it may commend. It recognizes the handicaps under which the man may be working. Maybe it's lack of funds. Maybe it's antiquated buildings or equipment. Maybe it's lack of trained personnel.

The committee on institutions starts out under the assumption that every officeholder would rather do a good job than a poor one. And it offers the backing, indirectly at least, of some 400 churches, with an approximate membership of 100,000 persons

Another secret of the committee's success is that it doesn't care who gets the credit for improvements or reforms. If the politician who heads the institution wants to claim the credit, that's quite all right with the committee. The main thing is to get the job done.

Recently a county jail, long a decrepit lockup, was cleaned up. A committee from the Council of Churches has been recommending changes there ever since the committee on institutions was founded.

Yet neither George W. Stoll, general chairman of the group, nor Charles E. Keller, chairman of its penal devision, will say that they are responsible for the improvements at the jail.

"The improvements are there; that's all that matters," Stoll says.

Among other institutions which have felt the admonishing but sympathetic hand of the Louisville churchmen are the Central State Hospital for the Insane near Louisville at Lakeland, the State Reformatory at nearby LaGrange, the Jefferson county (Louisville) Juvenile Court and Children's (Detention) Center, the Louisville General Hospital.

St. Matthews Honors Veteran Minister At Service Today

As church council member for almost 30 years Frank A. Voegele will participate in the services which today celebrate 25 years of ministry for Rev. Charles F. Sheriff with St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

In celebrating the anniversary today, the confirmed membership of 600 can look back on a successful quarter century during which the church was freed from debt; repairs and improvements, valued at $30,000, were made; and a memorial fund of $2,000 established.

Now members are planning for the future. Among plans which will challenge the congregation for the next few years are a religious education annex to the church, support of a foreign missionary, a parish worker and the organization of a junior choir.

During his years as pastor of St. Matthew's, Rev. Sheriff has watched the Sunday school grow from an attendance of 42 to its present membership of 224. He has encouraged the church to increase its budget from $2,100 in 1921, when he came to Mansfield, to $7,200. Today St. Matthew's owns church and parsonage property valued at $150,000 and has a healthy balance in its treasury.

Bucyrus Youth Escapes Death

BUCYRUS—John Aller, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Aller, South East street, was released from City hospital Friday after a narrow escape Thanksgiving day, when he was thrown beneath the wheels of a truck.

Quick thinking by the truck driver, Warren B. Naufzinger, of High street, possibly saved the life of the youth, police said.

Aller was thrown under the Naufzinger truck when he fell from the seat of a motor scooter operated by a friend, Donald Schnabel, as both scooter and truck were making a turn at the Sandusky and Irving street intersection.

Schnabel shouted to the driver to stop. Naufzinger applied the emergency brakes and the truck came to a stop with the rear wheels pressing against Aller's body. Aller was released from the hospital as uninjured.

OVER 100,000 IDLE DUE TO COAL WALKOUT

Unemployment Likely to Pass Million Mark In Week.

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The ten-day soft coal walkout was slowly strangling the nation's economy today as unemployment in related industries mounted to 100,000 in addition to weekend layoffs that idled 175,000, mostly automobile workers.

New predictions of factory shutdowns would shoot the unemployment total past the million mark by the end of the week if the 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers continue to stay away from work.

A spokesman for the Associated Industries of Georgia estimate 318,000 factory workers would be there "soon." In Alabama, spokesmen for jobbing foundries which employ from 11,000 to 12,000, said large scale shutdowns could be expected "no later than the end of next week." Virtually all of the foundries are now operating on a three-day week.

Meanwhile, an official of a large Logan, W. Va., bank who declined use of his name, said miners, jittery over rumors that union funds may be impounded, are drawing out much of the $50,000 to $75,000 local and burial fund deposited in the bank.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, with 2,500 already idle, reported unemployment will total 4,700 by Monday, including 1,132 at Russell, Ky., and 313 at the Newport News-Norfolk yards.

More and more schools were closing because of lack of heat for the classrooms. Youngstown, Ohio, schools will not open Monday and eight schools in Goshen, Ind., planned to shut down "late next week."

Many miners in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia yesterday collected their last full pay until they return to the pits although some West Virginia miners have one more pay coming in two weeks—for about four working days in the half month between Nov. 15 and the time of the walkout.

ADMITS STARTING DAMAGING FIRES

JEFFERSON CITY— (AP) —Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, announced yesterday that Elopus Walker, 46, of Kansas City, had admitted setting all of the incendiary fires which had terrorized northcentral Missouri.

He said Walker was making "a full statement" admitting all of the fires and robberies which had spread $250,000 worth of destruction in 10 towns since Sept. 8.

Walker was arrested while hitch hiking north of Chillicothe. No charge has been filed.

Walker's arrest followed by 25 hours the latest of the series of fires, those at Laredo, in Grundy county, Friday. Three business houses, a church and a vacant house were destroyed with a loss estimated at $75,000.

Film Fan Starts Suit Over Seat

HALIFAX, N. S. — (AP) — Mrs. Viola Desmond, 32-year-old hairdresser, who was fined $20 and costs for sitting downstairs in a New Glasgow, Nova Scotia theater when she held a balcony ticket, has started legal action against the theater manager, Henry McNeil.

Mrs. Desmond said she was removed badily from the theater Nov. 7, held all night in jail and fined the next day for "defrauding the federal government of one cent—the difference in the amusement tax on an upstairs ticket of two cents and downstairs ticket of three cents.

Spanish Police Probe Explosion

BARCELONA, Spain—(AP)—Police were investigating today a bomb explosion which caused the deaths of three persons and injuries to three others in a building occupied by the Falangist newspapers, Solidaridad Nacional and La Prensa.

Informed sources said they believed the explosion was connected with recent arrests of alleged Communists upon whom instructions were reportedly found to provoke police into taking repressive measures for propaganda purposes.

Navy Goes Down With Colors Flying

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1946 FULL SPORTS COVERAGE PAGE TWENTY-ONE

TARS SURPRISE ARMY IN UPSET OF YEAR

By SID FEDER

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Army's careening Cadets wound up their three-year run unbeaten yesterday, but only by the squeaky margin of three extra points, as the Navy picked itself off the floor from its worst season in history to battle the nightiest gridiron machine of a generation to a standstill.

The score was 21 to 18, and the only reason the impossible didn't happen was because the "monster and his play-mate"—Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis—set off all their sizzling fireworks in the first half, and the Middie kicking toes couldn't hit the bullseye.

From the start of the second half it was Navy's ball game, as the up-to-now meek Middies, mauled and manhandled in seven straight starts up to today, gave the Cadets the fight of their lives before they were able to come home with that bare three point edge.

It was a slashing, smashing battle these fiercely fighting future admirals put up—a fight that saw them dug in on Army's five yard line and still rolling when the clock ran out of time to put an end to what appeared the makings of one of the most amazing upsets this game of moleskin mayhem has ever seen.

It left the 10,000 customers who had this huge South Philadelphia concrete horseshoe bulging at the seams—among them President Truman—hanging on the ropes and gasping as the Middies stopped B. and D. to a slow walk in the final two periods and sailed down-field for two touchdowns on their own.

And then it had the Navy footballers, flailed and flattened through a first half that saw Davis score once and Blanchard twice to give the Army a 21-6 edge at the intermission, rolling up their sleeves and coming back with a thrill-a-second job of work that just missed winning.

President Truman, the former artilleryman who is strictly neutral in this brawl every year, sat in his 50-yard linebox on the Navy side of the field through the first half and saw the Black Knights of the Hudson pull the customers out of their seats as Davis dashed 13 yards for the first score, Blanchard bulled his way 52 yards for a second and then Davis hit Blanchard with a 27-yard pass in the end zone for a third.

Jack Ray, the Texan with the thread-a-needle toe, booted the point after each one of these tallies, and that did the trick.

That was enough to put this third unbeaten season of the Black Knights on ice, a string that saw the Army banners flying ever since they lost the 1943 Navy game, 13-0. In that startling stretch, they piled up 27 victories in 28 trips to the post, with only their scoreless standoff with Notre Dame three weeks ago marring the run.

But it never came closer to being broken than it was on this crisp, sunshiny afternoon, and the faithful—some of whom had paid ticket speculators as high as $50 a-piece for the privilege of sitting in on it—will never forget it. Before it started, there had been nothing to recommend this as a red-hot brawl, what with a Navy team that hadn't won a game since it nosed out Villanova in its season opener and a 32-point underdog among the betting boys yesterday.

There has been no collegiate struggle with more upsets per square yard than this one in the 56 years it has been on the books. And yesterday, the Middies almost made the biggest one of all happen.

They drove 82 yards between Army's first and second touchdowns for one of their own, that put them behind only 7-6, with the second quarter started. Then they clawed and dug and inched their way 78 yards more in the third period, and finally, capitalizing on a quer quarterbacking stunt by the usually errorless Arnold Tucker late in the third period, they clicked for 35 yards in a hurry for their last marker early in the fourth.

And in Reaves (Base) Baysinger, tall, slim Syracuse, N. Y., quarterback who never did any signal-calling before the Notre Dame clash three weeks ago, and Bill Hawkins of Richmond, Va., fresh off the hospital list, they had the scoring punch. Base scored the first marker on a one-yard sneak through the line, and Hawkins hit the jackpot for the second one from two yards out.

About Harry Mehock, '47 Relays, Scrappy Tygers, Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

HARRY MEHOCK, genial director of athletics in Mansfield schools, is like a kid with a shiny new fifty cent piece today after announcement of the resumption of the famous Mansfield relays next spring . . . For Mehock is the "father" of the scholastic relays which started on a shoestring a score of years ago and became the country's No. 1 high school track event with the exception of the schoolboy division of the Penn relays . . . Mehock got the idea of a far-reaching high school track event while starring on the Illinois squad in the early 20's . . . The Mansfield coach was a crack 440 man and participated in the Drake, Illinois, Texas, Kansas and Southwestern relays . . . Harry won two letters at Illinois and ran on the medley relay team which set a Drake relay record in 1926 . . . At the time of the inception of the Mansfield relays only two others—Ohio State and Defiance—were on the schoolboy docket but Mehock's embryo meet soon became the top one in Buckeye circles and the others dropped into limbo . . . The Tygers copped five championships in the 15 years but Harry best remembers the 1933 title . . . That was the year Mansfield defeated Jesse Owens and the Cleveland East Tech squad . . . East Tech went on to win the National schoolboy championship.

SCRAPPINESS will be the keynote when Coach Vern Hoffman's Mansfield Tyger basketeers take to the hardwood this year . . . Lacking the height that made them one of the district's feared teams last season, the Bengals are long on ball hawkishness and determination . . . A pair of long and rugged scrimmage sessions last week brought to light a lot of speed but the performers were a trifle ragged on the ball handling side of the ledger . . . The ex-football players particularly were plagued with a slight case of fumbleities but that was only natural in their first week of serious drills . . . Tuesday's battle with the alumni will help to iron out a few of the kinks and the men of Hoffman should be considerably smoother when the opener with Wapakoneta rolls around Friday . . . Only two of the players on the first squad—Chuck Sisco and Jerry Robfogel—go above the six-foot mark . . . However, veterans Ollie Cline and Ralph Majors can get into the air with the best of them and nab the leather off the bankboards . . . Cline is starting his third year as a regular . . . Shelley Swank, who was some shakes as a baseballer last spring, has been looking good on set shots . . . He plunked in four in a row against Galion.

CUFF STUFF: The Cleveland Browns have announced the procedure for ordering tickets to the All-America conference championship football game at Cleveland stadium Sunday, Dec. 22, between the Browns and New York Yankees. . . . Orders accompanied by checks or money orders plus a self-addressed return envelope should be sent to the Cleveland Browns football club, 405 Leader building, Cleveland 14, Ohio. . . . Scale of prices, tax inclusive, is $6.00, 4.80, 3.60 and 2.40.

Mike Horvath, ex-Tyger gridder, received a gold football from Coach John Swigart for three years of varsity tackle play at Wooster college. . . . He played his last game of collegiate ball last Saturday when the Scots dropped a 23-0 decision to Oberlin. . . . Horace Gillom, former Massillon end, was named to one of the flanker posts on the INS All-Pacific Coast grid team. . . . Gillom performs for Nevada.

Bellville is one of the four teams entered in the newly formed Mohican football league. . . . Other clubs are Danville, Fredericktown and Millersburg. . . . D. D. Rummel, Bellville, is president. . . . Two more teams might be added before next fall. . . . Mt. Gilead is a possibility for a berth.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, Mr. Football to millions, is another grid mentor who might feel the axe this year. . . . The 84-year-old dean of American coaches has been asked to step down as head man of College of Pacific grid fortunes. . . . Stagg has missed only one game and two practice sessions in 14 years at COP. . . . However, the final retirement decision is entirely up to Stagg, college officials stated.

CLINIC WILL OPEN CAGE CAMPAIGN

Fourth annual basketball clinic Tuesday night in the Tyger lair will touch off the 1946-47 hardwood season for Mansfield Senior high school.

Co-featured in the cage festival will be a demonstration by Coach Paul Horneman and his Heidelberg Student Princes and a regulation cage contest between the present Mansfield varsity and an alumni squad.

The program, sponsored by the Tyger club, is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 and Joe Blahnik, chairman of the booster organization's cage committee, will emcee the program. Proceeds of the clinic will go to the Tyger pep band which provides the musical interludes at all Mansfield home games.

Horneman and his cagers have prepared a 30-minute program which will include zone defense and the fast break and approved methods of penetrating a zone. Horneman coached at New Philadelphia before stepping up to the Student Prince job.

Coaches Vern Hoffman and Fred Staub will introduce the varsity and reserve squads, Harry Mehock will explain the city school basketball program and Jimmy Lymper will discuss the new rules. The Tyger pep band will furnish the music. Senior high principal Glenn G. Rohleder will also speak.

Area schools, not playing Tuesday night, have been given 20 complimentary tickets apiece.

Ed Chatlain, former Tyger court ace and present coach at Savannah high school, is in charge of the alumni courtmen. Jim "Stretch" Regula of the 1945-46 squad will be among the galaxy of stars that will oppose the 1946-47 regulars.

Others on Chatlain's squad are: Dave Shelley, Tom Scott, Fred Lewis, Russ Hoff, Bruce McGinty, Jim LeMunyon, Jack Lyons, Don Rose, Gene Rudolph, Gene Herpick, Jim Hahn and Don Hardy.

Hoffman plans to experiment with his squad to find the best combination to throw against the Wapakoneta Redmen in the season's opener next Friday night. Returning lettermen Ollie Cline, Ralph Majors, Chuck Sisco and Jerry Robfogel are in the midst of a hot fight for starting berths.

Pushing the veterans are Shelley Swank, Nick Gagich, Tom Bloor and Phil Pittenger. Gagich, Cline and Majors are all footballers and joined the squad late.

Mansfield copped 14 of 20 games last season, including a 44 to 29 victory over the Wapak cagers.

Bramham Says He Will Retire

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Judge W. G. Bramham, a pillar of organized baseball for nearly 50 years, announced yesterday he expected to retire as president of the National association of professional baseball leagues.

The 72-year-old head of the Minor leagues said in an interview:

"They are talking of my retirement based on the condition of my health. I suppose that is what it will result in. Definitely I expect to retire."

This clear cut statement ending long speculation came on the eve of the opening of the association's annual convention here next week. The meeting may turn into a sharp struggle between the Major and Minor leagues over control of baseball's vast structure.

Already there is talk of Major league support for George M. Trautman, executive vice president of the Detroit Tigers, as successor to Judge Bramham's $25,000-per-year job.

Mansfield Relays Coming Back '47 EVENT SCHEDULED FOR APRIL

Mansfield will regain its place at the top of the Buckeye state track picture next April 19 when the war enforced interruption of the Mansfield relays comes to an end.

Harry Mehock, Tyger track coach and director of athletics in Mansfield schools, announced yesterday that the most important of all Ohio high school spring athletic events, with the exception of state meets, will be run off at Stadium field. The war and subsequent gasoline rationing caused officials to postpone the 16th annual meet in 1942.

In 1927, the relays started as the North Central Ohio league meet with Mansfield, Ashland and Galion entered. Name was changed to the North Central Ohio invitational meet in 1928 and nine schools competed.

And then in 1929 the meet officially became the Mansfield relays with 27 schools in the field. The event reached its peak in 1939 when 110 schools from six states participated. The '39 meet had an entry list of 1,500 scholastic track and field artists.

Nineteen events will be on the calendar for the 1947 meet with the first three individuals and the top trio of relay teams all coming in for medals. The Mansfield relays annually gives the best awards of any Ohio high school track meet.

The relays will be augmented by a special four-mile relay event which will be run off Friday afternoon, April 18. Finals of all other events will be run off Saturday afternoon with preliminaries slated for the morning.

Invitations to Ohio high schools will be sent out by Tyger officials early in January.

The Zollners will invade University of Toledo Field House for the Monday night attraction which is expected to attract Toledo's largest professional basketball crowd.

LITTLE COY BIG NOISE IN IRISH WIN OVER USC

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP) A tiny Texan, 160-pound Coy McGee, fired Notre Dame to a relentless 26 to 6 closing triumph over stubborn Southern California to give absent Irish Coach Frank Leahy his first undefeated season since 1941 before a capacity crowd of 56,000 at Notre Dame stadium yesterday.

As slashing and explosive as the "coachless" Irish were in piling up their eighth victory against a scoreless tie with Army for the season, they couldn't stop the inspired Trojans from scoring the first touchdown against Notre Dame's first stringers and making it a 13 to 6 ball game until the final period.

McGee, whose first name Leahy couldn't recall for sports writers in early practices, streaked 77 yards for the first Irish score in the second quarter, seconds after he galloped 50 yards on another break-away. The Longview, Tex., fireball launched a 13-point Irish attack in the final period with an eight-yard payoff jaunt around end.

With Leahy at home bed-ridden with a cold and "nervous exhaustion," the Irish ploughed to 26 first downs against Southern California's nine and an amazing 517 yards by rushing against 108.

Yet, it took McGee's phantom-like flitting to spark them to their brace of six-pointers in the second and fourth period.

The second Notre Dame touchdown was fashioned of a 22-yard pass from reserve quarter George Ratterman to substitute end Leon Hart, while the final score in the last quarter came on second string halfback Gerry Cowhig's 13-yard spring.

Southern California, held beyond the 50 in the first half, exploded for a 45-yard touchdown drive late in the third period when Johnny Naumu squirmed over from the one-foot stripe.

It took a Notre Dame pass interference on a goal-line toss from George Murphy intended for Naumu to set up the touchdown. Naumu missed what then seemed an important placement try for point. That shaved Notre Dame's lead to 13-6, but the Irish then loosed their full offensive fury.

Starting on their 12 after Southern California's touchdown, following kickoff, the Irish thunder-bolted to the Trojan 8 in just seven plays and then stocky McGee darted clear around end for his second touchdown. On that parade, quarterback Johnny Lujack ambled 21 and a pass from Ratterman to Floyd Simmons covered 49 yards to Southern California's 12.

Madison Five Opens Season Tuesday Night

Mansfield Madison opens its 15-game basketball schedule Tuesday night at Mt. Vernon.

Coach Jeff DeHaven's cage hopeful's have worked out two weeks since the conclusion of the football season and are rapidly rounding into shape for the 1946-47 basketball campaign. Thirty-eight athletes have been vieing for positions on the squad.

Two lettermen are returning off the 1945-46 squad which won 12 of 17 regular season games and DeHaven is looking forward to a successful season. Dick Ernsberger and Herb Eldridge are the court veterans. Both are juniors.

DeHaven has a young squad with only two seniors trying for starting berths. The last year candidates are Wayne Strang and Dick Glenn.

The Madison lads will make their first appearance before a home crowd next Friday when Shelby invades the Ram gym. Shelby opened last week by dropping a 29 to 26 decision to Fostoria.

Three lettermen—Dick Seitz, Dave Connelly and Bill Lucas—form the nucleous of the Whippett squad. Seitz and Connelly are both six-footers. Shelby copped 10 of 17 games last season.

Georgia Rips Tech, 35-7; Vols Triumph

ATHENS, Ga. —(AP)— Charlie Trippi defeated Georgia Tech here yesterday 35-7, with some occasional help from his Georgia teammates to earn the Bulldogs a nod of approval for the Sugar Bowl classic.

Trippi thrilled the capacity crowd of 55,000 with three touchdowns, one on a 66-yard dash after Tech's lone score, and with a touchdown heave to Johnny Rauch. The victory gave the Bulldogs their first perfect season since 1896 when the famed Pop Warner steered them through four games.

Between them, Trippi and Rauch completed 15 of 21 passes, two of Rauch's being for touchdowns, while Tech completed nine of 19. Georgia made 263 yards rushing and 168 passing, while Tech netted 169 on the ground and 115 on passes.

Sniff Orange Blossoms

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Tennessee's Vols, sniffing more at Miami's orange blossoms than tending to the business at hand, muddled through to a 7 to 6 victory over Vanderbilt yesterday in the fortieth grid clash between the state's two major institutions.

The Vols were tapped last week to meet Rice in the New Year's day Orange Bowl classic and for a while it looked yesterday they'd go south to the land of sunshine with two defeats instead of one for the regular season which ended for them yesterday. As things concluded, Coach Bob Neyland's boys lost only to Wake Forest in their ten game 1946 campaign.

A one-pointer kicked after a touchdown in the early minutes of play meant victory for the Tennessee squad, which threatened in every quarter but was unable to generate scoring steam after the first successful foray.

Palmer Retains One-Stroke Lead

ORLANDO, Fla. —(AP)— Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., after faltering badly at the start, steadied down on the incoming nine and retained his one-strike lead in the $10,000 Open Golf tourney here yesterday

He carded an even par 71 over the Dubsdread Country Club course to put his 54-hole total at 204.

Rollin Ford, Lexington forward, leads the league in individual scoring with 18 field goals and three free throws for 39 points. Lucas guard, Don Stake is second with 11 baskets and four free tosses with 26 points.

Ford split the net for nine fielders in the opening contest with Ontario and added nine baskets and three foul shots against Shiloh.

Artie Levine Cast In Favorite Role

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Artie Levine, Brooklyn's battling ex-marine who came within a second of flattening Peerless Sugar Ray Robinson, was the 7 to 5 favorite yesterday to top Jimmy Sheppard of Providence, R. I., in the 10-round main event of the annual Christmas fund boxing show at the Arena Tuesday night.

Despite his underdog role, the Rhode Island Irishman was confident, however, that he could repeat his recent upset victory over Levine at Providence where he entered the ring a 7 to 1 long shot against the hard-hitting Brooklynite.

YMCA HYFUN 'Like Party at Home' for Teenagers

Weekly Dances Attract Ever Bigger Attendance

By AL PREYER

Just like a party at home—only you can invite a bigger gang.

This is the general opinion voiced by Mansfield high school youths who crowd the dance floor, recreation room, and snack bar at the YMCA during the weekly Monday and Friday night HYFUN club youth center recreation dances.

"We've been having these dances, and they've been growing in size, since way back in 1940. We think that more high school kids ought to know about it," said Betty Timmons, 17, of 76 Brickman avenue, as she took time out from a swing number.

"Here's where we have our fun every week. You don't have to belong to the Y to come to the dances. All you have to be is a high school student or an ex-high school student not over 21."

Dress Is Informal.

"Yes, and dress is informal. That's another great thing about it," said John Park, 16, of 121 Western avenue. "This is a wonderful place to get together and meet your pals. We need more things like this, and we need more room."

"That's why we're all so anxious to have a new Y and youth recreation center as soon as possible," interjected J. R. Cole, 16, of 498½ Cline avenue. "We do need a new 'Y' because all of our activities are centered here and we need more room and more facilities to take care of the 350 members we have now."

The series of youth recreation dances began in 1940 under the joint sponsorship of the YM and YWCA. At that time they were called the Monday and Friday night clubs.

Clubs Merged In 1941.

The program grew so rapidly that in 1941 the clubs merged and have been operating as one group ever since with increased success. The HYFUN has grown from approximately 100 members in 1940 to the present membership of 350.

Music for dances is generally provided by the juke box. However, once a month, an orchestra produces the rhythms for dancing.

When the youths are not dancing they may relax in the large lounge and "chew the fat" in the snack bar from which cooling refreshments may be obtained after a particularly invigorating "jive" number.

Name New This Year.

The name HYFUN was adopted this year when the YM and YW got together and set up their own youth council to run the show. Officers are Jean Daugherty, president; William McGraw, vice president; Lois Richert, recording secretary; Ruth Ann Bush, corresponding secretary. Committee members are Mary Cole, Robert Frere, Doris Alverson, Janet Delaney, John Parks, Betty Timmons, J. R. Cole, David Boals, Dick Flockencier and Joann Freeland.

Advisors are Miss Elizabeth Chapin of the YWCA and Donald Cram of the YMCA.

"Just tell the folks," was the general request, "that on Monday and Fridays when they hear the sound of music and laughter floating from the 'Y' that we feel 'there's no place like home.'

"The Y is like a big home to us where we can have a big party twice a week. We hope the public will support the move for a new building where we can expand still further and offer our fun to more of Mansfield's youths."

ONE-ARMED BOY EXHIBITS GRAND CHAMPION HOG

Prizes At Chicago Show Go to Teen-Age Farmers.

CHICAGO —(AP)— Three teen-age exhibitors from Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa—two boys and a girl and a Canadian grain grower—yesterday divided major honors at the International Livestock Exposition.

A pretty 15-year-old girl, red-haired Phyllis Bonnater of Keswick, Iowa, saw her 1,260 pound Hereford steer adjudged junior champion steer of the 47th show.

Despite the loss of his right arm in a farm accident last April, William "Bill" Worthington, 19-year-old Pontiac, Ill., farm youth, captured the purple ribbon for the junior grand champion hog.

Another junior champion who emerged with a purple ribbon from the first day's competition in the eight day show, was Wayne Disch, 16, of Evansville, Wis.

Besting all junior competitors for the champion pen of three Southdown lambs, Wayne, a confident, competent sheepman, showed not only the grand champion pen but also the reserve grand champion.

Grain judges, burdened with the gigantic task of selecting the best of some 3,000 samples of grain from United States and Canadian exhibitors, were able yesterday to reach only one final determination, that of "rye king."

The new "rye king," the first selected since the last international exposition in 1942, is W. S. Simpson, a Canadian grain grower of Dawson Creek, B. C., whose entry weighed 56.6 pounds a bushel.

Young Worthington won the junior hog grand championship with his 228 pound Hampshire barrow, "Mike" a sleek black and white animal that was brushed and polished to perfection.

BACK TRUMAN IN MINE FIGHT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has strong backing from congressmen of both parties for a non-compromise, finish fight with John L. Lewis, a check disclosed yesterday.

Almost without exception, Democrats and Republicans said they think Mr. Truman should go to a final showdown with the United Mine Workers chieftain, without making any concessions that could be heralded as a victory for Lewis.

Responsible Republicans in the house, who did not want to be quoted by name because they insisted that until Jan. 3 it is Mr. Truman's battle, told a reporter that the GOP-controlled congress is certain to consider legislation directed at throttling Lewis' power if the coal strike is not ended before it meets.

In the senate, the only available member who saw any hope of compromise was Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), listed as strong supporter of organized labor in the past.

Thomas said he thinks some compromise could be found by which a welfare fund could be established permanently for the miners, if that is Lewis' main objective in attempting to terminate the UMW contract with the government. This contract provides for such a fund, but mine owners have not agreed to it.

KILLS GRANDFATHER, GETS PRISON TERM

SUTTON, W. Va.— (AP) —Woodrow Wilson Conrad, 32, of Burnsville, began an 18-year prison term yesterday for second-degree murder in the fatal beating of his grandfather, 75-year-old Porter Ratliff.

A Braxton county jury convicted Conrad Friday, and Circuit Judge Jake Fisher, terming the crime "aggravated second-degree murder," imposed the maximum sentence. The indictment charged Conrad with beating the old man to death with a chair last April 6.

Leaking Gas Cited In Suit for $7,500

Margaret Boyer, Lind avenue, Saturday filed action in Richland county common pleas court asking $7,500 judgment for injuries to her health and medical expenses she said were the result of being overcome by gas leaking from a defective heater.

Defendants were listed as James L. Metcalf and Mary J. Metcalf of 298 West Third street, and the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

The plaintiff charges negligence on the part of the Metcalfs, as owners of the property in which she occupied an apartment at 299 West Dickson avenue, Dec. 1, 1944. and the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

Louisville Churchmen Skip 'Alarm' Waves, But Quietly Push Governmental Reforms

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(AP)— Two hundred Louisville churchmen have found a way to translate practical Christianity into practical government.

Crusading preachers and periodic reform waves by church folks are common enough in American public life. But these Louisville churchmen quietly study jails, courts, hospitals and public homes. They observe conditions, compare practices with those in other states, and have a program to suggest before they criticize.

This group is known as the committee on institutions of the Louisville Council of Churches. In the five years of its existence it has worked no miracles, but gradually it is beginning to make its efforts felt in better government tional "view with alarm" attitude. tions.

Perhaps the chief reason the committee has been successful has been its care to avoid the traditional "view with alarm" atitude.

Instead of launching a fiery crusade or a spectacular reform wave, the committee first obtains the facts, then comes forward with suggestions.

The warden, jailer or superintendent of the institution or department is visited and the subcommittee which has been studying his work presents some of the results of its investigations and a suggestion or two for improvement.

It doesn't rebuke the official for inefficiency. It doesn't accuse him of mismanagement or graft. In fact, it starts out by finding something he has done which it may commend. It recognizes the handicaps under which the man may be working. Maybe it's lack of funds. Maybe it's antiquated buildings or equipment. Maybe it's lack of trained personnel.

The committee on institutions starts out under the assumption that every officeholder would rather do a good job than a poor one. And it offers the backing, indirectly at least, of some 400 churches, with an approximate membership of 100,000 persons.

Another secret of the committee's success is that it doesn't care who gets the credit for improvements or reforms. If the politician who heads the institution wants to claim the credit, that's quite all right with the committee. The main thing is to get the job done.

Recently a county jail, long a decrepit lockup, was cleaned up. A committee from the Council of Churches has been recommending changes there ever since the committee on institutions was founded.

Yet neither George W. Stoll, general chairman of the group, nor Charles E. Keller, chairman of its penal devision, will say that they are responsible for the improvements at the jail.

"The improvements are there; that's all that matters," Stoll says.

Among other institutions which have felt the admonishing but sympathetic hand of the Louisville churchmen are the Central State Hospital for the Insane near Louisville at Lakeland, the State Reformatory at nearby LaGrange, the Jefferson county (Louisville) Juvenile Court and Children's (Detention) Center, the Louisville General Hospital.

St. Matthews Honors Veteran Minister At Service Today

As church council member for almost 30 years Frank A. Voegele will participate in the services which today celebrate 25 years of ministry for Rev. Charles F. Sheriff with St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

In celebrating the anniversary today, the confirmed membership of 600 can look back on a successful quarter century during which the church was freed from debt; repairs and improvements, valued at $30,000, were made; and a memorial fund of $2,000 established.

Now members are planning for the future. Among plans which will challenge the congregation for the next few years are a religious education annex to the church, support of a foreign missionary, a parish worker and the organization of a junior choir.

During his years as pastor of St. Matthew's, Rev. Sheriff has watched the Sunday school grow from an attendance of 42 to its present membership of 224. He has encouraged the church to increase its budget from $2,100 in 1921, when he came to Mansfield, to $7,200. Today St. Matthew's owns church and parsonage property valued at $150,000 and has a healthy balance in its treasury.

Bucyrus Youth Escapes Death

BUCYRUS—John Aller, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Aller, South East street, was released from City hospital Friday after a narrow escape Thanksgiving day, when he was thrown beneath the wheels of a truck.

Quick thinking by the truck driver, Warren B. Naufzinger, of High street, possibly saved the life of the youth, police said.

Aller was thrown under the Naufzinger truck when he fell from the seat of a motor scooter operated by a friend, Donald Schnabel, as both scooter and truck were making a turn at the Sandusky and Irving street intersection.

Schnabel shouted to the driver to stop. Naufzinger applied the emergency brakes and the truck came to a stop with the rear wheels pressing against Aller's body. Aller was released from the hospital as uninjured.

OVER 100,000 IDLE DUE TO COAL WALKOUT

Unemployment Likely to Pass Million Mark In Week.

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The ten-day soft coal walkout was slowly strangling the nation's economy today as unemployment in related industries mounted to 100,000 in addition to weekend layoffs that idled 175,000, mostly automobile workers.

New prediction of factory shutdowns would boot the unemployment total past the million mark by the end of the week if the 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers continue to stay away from work.

A spokesman for the Associated Industries of Georgia estimate 318,000 factory workers would be there "soon." In Alabama, spokesmen for jobbing foundries which employ from 11,000 to 12,000, said large scale shutdowns could be expected "no later than the end of next week." Virtually all of the foundries are now operating on a three-day week.

Meanwhile, an official of a large Logan, W. Va., bank who declined use of his name, said miners, jittery over rumors that union funds may be impounded, are drawing out much of the $50,000 to $75,000 local and burial fund deposited in the bank.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, with 2,500 already idle, reported unemployment will total 4,700 by Monday, including 1,132 at Russell, Ky., and 313 at the Newport News-Norfolk yards.

More and more schools were closing because of lack of heat for the classrooms. Youngstown, Ohio, schools will not open Monday and eight schools in Goshen, Ind., planned to shut down "late next week."

Many miners in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia yesterday collected their last full pay until they return to the pits although some West Virginia miners have one more pay coming in two weeks—for about four working days in the half month between Nov. 15 and the time of the walkout.

ADMITS STARTING DAMAGING FIRES

JEFFERSON CITY— (AP) —Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, announced yesterday that Elopus Walker, 46, of Kansas City, had admitted setting all of the incendiary fires which had terrorized northcentral Missouri.

He said Walker was making "a full statement" admitting all of the fires and robberies which had spread $250,000 worth of destruction in 10 towns since Sept. 8.

Walker was arrested while hitch hiking north of Chillicothe. No charge has been filed.

Walker's arrest followed by 25 hours the latest of the series of fires, those at Laredo, in Grundy county, Friday. Three business houses, a church and a vacant house were destroyed with a loss estimated at $75,000.

Film Fan Starts Suit Over Seat

HALIFAX, N. S. — (AP) — Mrs. Viola Desmond, 32-year-old hairdresser, who was fined $20 and costs for sitting downstairs in a New Glasgow, Nova Scotia theater when she held a balcony ticket, has started legal action against the theater manager, Henry McNeil.

Mrs. Desmond said she was removed badily from the theater Nov. 7, held all night in jail and fined the next day for "defrauding the federal government of one cent—the difference in the amusement tax on an upstairs ticket of two cents and downstairs ticket of three cents.

Spanish Police Probe Explosion

BARCELONA, Spain—(AP)—Police were investigating today a bomb explosion which caused the deaths of three persons and injuries to three others in a building occupied by the Falangist newspapers, Solidaridad Nacional and La Prensa.

Informed sources said they believed the explosion was connected with recent arrests of alleged Communists upon whom instructions were reportedly found to provoke police into taking repressive measures for propaganda purposes.

State of Ohio conservation committee asked for $1,000,000 from the general revenue fund for wildlife and fish restoration, H. A. "Buck" Rider, state commissioner announced this week.

This makes the first time that the commission has requested money from the general revenue fund. Heretofore the conservation department has operated solely on revenue derived from hunting and fishing licenses.

Rider said that he will propose for an additional $3,000,000 appropriation for the 1947-48 biennium. This money would buy a four-point program, he stated.

The commissioner is setting up the program to, 1. Restore fish and game, 2 Restore the many existing inland lakes, 3. Develop three lakes in Clermont, Highland and Clinton counties, and 4. To construct three lakes in northern Ohio, preferably around Toledo, Cleveland and a third sight to be named later.

The state could afford to spend some of its tax money for conservation work," he said

Prostate Gland Trouble?
I'm a railroad man and for over 3 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since his death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Fine testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights, often indicate an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. One Dozen Watt's Suppositories, $1.25; 2½ dozen for $2.50. For Sale at Lautsbaugh Pharmacy — Adv.

Davis-Blanchard Grid Era Ends Gloriously

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Glenn Davis-Felix Blanchard era of college football came to an official close yesterday with Army's 21 to 18 victory over Navy in Philadelphia.

But it is likely that arguments of the nation's drugstore quarterbacks over the reported "fast clock" will be as long as the string of 28 games without a defeat the Army's touchdown twins helped build during their three years together

North Carolina crushed Virginia, 49 to 14, and Georgia racked up its first unbeaten campaign since 1896 by annihilating Feorgia Tech, 35 to 7 Immediately after the victories were posted, it was announced the two would meet Jan. 1 in the New Orleans' Sugar Bowl. Charles (Choo-Choo) Justice got three touchdowns for the Tarheels and Charles Trippi collected the same number for the Georgians.

Lousiana State accepted a bid to oppose Arkansas in the Dallas Cotton Bowl after downing Tulane, 41 to 27.

Alabama's 24 to 7 verdict over Mississippi State in a game most experts saw going the other way and Holy Cross 13 to 6 decision over Boston College.

In the same category comes Oklahoma's 73 to 12 revenge for war-time beatings by Oklahoma A & M

Rice, which moves against Tennessee in the Orange Bowl, pulled into a first place southwest conference tie with Arkansas by beating Baylor, 38 to 6 In the same league, Southern Methodist stopped Texas Christian, 30 to 13

UCLA, Illinois' opponent in the Rose Bowl, finished its schedule with an 18 to 0 whitewashing of Nebraska and Hardin-Simmons, a participant in the coming Alamo Bowl, knocked over Texas Tech, 21 to 6.

Washington State traveled to East Lansing, Mich, for a 26 to 20 setback by Michigan State, Maryland's disappointing eleven lost another, this time to North Carolina State, 28 to 7, while Florida, also the owner of a poor record, bowed to Auburn, 47 to 12. Oregon State moved past Washington, 21 to 12.
